Operation Snowball rolls into Antioch with 8 arrests

by GLORIA DAVIS

Last November, a Crime Stoppers "Crime of the Week" focused the attention of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. and the Antioch Police Dept. on a area in the village where high drug traffic was taking place. Most of the traffic involved the small dealer, who sells a little and keeps some himself.

As part of "Operation Snowball," the sheriff's department, with the aid of six Antioch Police officers led by Lt. Tom Fisher, was expected to start arresting eight people in Antioch on Thursday morning for 34 undercover controlled buys of drugs with a street value of $4,000 accounting for 24 felony and 10 misdemeanor charges.

With the cooperation of the management of the Oakridge Apartments, undercover agents moved in and began their sting operation.

The entire operation started on Tuesday with arrests for undercover buys made in the Round Lake area and on Wednesday with arrests made for buys made in the Wildwood area.

On the Antioch arrest list is Theresa Adams, 32, six felony charges (three for unlawful possession of controlled substances, three for unlawful delivery of controlled substances) and two misdemeanor charges of unlawful possession and delivery. Her bond was set at $80,000.

Also on the arrest list are Jennifer M. Deaver, 18, Round Lake Beach, on three felony charges each of possession and delivery and one charge of tax stamp violation; Brian Haynes, 28, Lake Villa, two misdemeanor charges of possession and delivery, 5,000 bond; Brenda V. Hipps, 31, two felony charges of possession and delivery and two misdemeanor charges of possession and delivery, bond $45,000; Shelley L. Jensen, 31, four misdemeanor charges, two possession and two delivery, bond $10,000.

Also expected to be arrested are: Michelle C. Massano, 23, three felony charges of possession, delivery and violation of the conspiracy act, $50,000 bond; Glen Meister, two felony charges of possession and delivery, $40,000 bond and Victoria K. Orphan, 30, four felony charges of possession, delivery, $40,000 bond.

Eye small airport's potential

Campbell Airport, a small general aviation facility, is conveniently located to central and west Lake County communities. Aviation aides in the Illinois Dept. of Transportation are working with local officials to put into motion expansion program for the airport, now privately owned, to realize commercial potential. IDOT sees Campbell as part of a network of small airports supporting hub O'Hare International. Campbell is located in Fremont Township. Airport presently has a mix of 75 percent recreational airport and 25 percent commercial traffic.—Photo by John Doetsch

Grass Lake referendum to fight deficit

by GLORIA DAVIS

On Tuesday, March 15, voters in the Grass Lake School Dist. will again find a referendum on the ballot calling for a 50 cent per $100 of assessed valuation increase in the school district's education fund's tax rate.

In last November's election, the same tax rate increase referendum was defeated by 13 votes.

The administration, school board and district electors that are for the tax rate increase feel that the district's voters were not aware of the dire financial need of the school district.

Proponents of the referendum have been working hard to inform district electors of this need in a giant effort to get the referendum passed this time around.

According to Grass Lake Admin. Anthony Przeklasa, the current school year is the fifth year in a row that the school has operated at a deficit. The last raise in the education fund tax was 14 years ago, in 1974, when there was a 45-cent hike in the fund.

A cost-cutting move made last year eliminated the hot lunch program which was brought back after an outcry from the district's electors. More students than ever are using that program after an in-school publicity campaign for hot lunch was run.

One-and one-half teacher positions was eliminated in the cost cut and that cut is still in effect.

Przeklasa, reporting that last year general, state, and supplemental aids received by Grass Lake amounted to $145,000. The same aids received this year added-up to $112,000 or a 23 percent cut.

At 7 p.m., on Thursday, March 10, there will be a public informational meeting at Grass Lake School in the library about the upcoming referendum.

GOP tags incumbents

Also endorsed were incumbents Adeline Geo-Karis, state senator from Senatorial Dist. 31; Robert Churchill, state representative from Dist. 62; Barbara Richardson, coroner; Frank Nustra, recorder; Fred Foreman, states attorney; and Sally Coffelt, circuit court clerk.

County to receive funds for emergency shelter

Lake County has been chosen to receive $98,834 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in the area.

grant from the National Board, local governmental or private voluntary organizations chosen to receive funds must: be non-profit, have an accounting system and conduct an annual audit, practice non-discrimination, have demonstrated the capability to deliver emergency food and/or shelter programs, and if they are a private voluntary organization, they should have a voluntary board.

Qualifying organizations will be forwarded an application by sending a stamped, self-addressed business envelope to:

Local FEMA Board, 2835 Belvidere, Suite 312, Waukegan, Ill. 60085.

WHAT IS 4-WHEEL ALIGNMENT?

Every car, rear wheel or front wheel drive, has an imaginary centerline. All four wheels must be parallel to this line for proper handling and tire wear. When either the front or rear wheels are not parallel you will have poor handling performance, increased wear on suspension parts and tires!

DO YOU NEED IT?

You should have a periodic alignment check to find out.

Charge 4 Antioch Twp. men with armed robbery

The $65 plus change, stolen at gun point from an Antioch Twp. quick mart, was in the alleged robbers' possession for just a few minutes last week after Lake County Sheriff's deputies arrested them shortly after the robbery.

Four Antioch Twp. men allegedly held-up the Aunties Pantry quick mart at Grass Lake and Ackerman Rds. in Antioch Twp. by holding an employee at bay with a pistol.

Charged are James Ditrach, 24, Richard Nava, 18, who lives near the store, James Browning, 18, and Jerry Herron, who lives in the Village of Antioch.

According to the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., Browning and Ditrach, wearing ski masks, entered the quick mart on Thursday, Feb. 25, at about 7:50 p.m. and pointed a pistol at an employee, asking for the store's cash.

After the employee gave the two men all the store's cash, including all the change, they reportedly fled the scene in a car driven by Herron.

During the hold-up, two area teens that were passing the store saw what was happening and called the sheriff's department giving a description of the car.

With the description of the car put on all area police radios, it was a matter of minutes before sheriff's deputies, Jeff Lowery and David DePauw, spotted the car on Grass Lake Rd. near Rte. 83.

With the aid of other sheriff deputies, the car was stopped on Beach Grove Rd. and the men were taken into custody.

Letters To The Editor

Referendum

Editor:

I would like to address my letter to all registered voters in Grass Lake School Dist. 36, Antioch Twp.

On Tuesday, March 15, a referendum calling for a rate increase in the education fund will again be put before the vote. This rate increase was defeated in November by only 13 votes.

It has been approximately 14 years since Grass Lake Schools received the last increase in the education fund. We all know how much the cost of living has gone up in general over the same 14-year period.

Can we, as taxpayers, expect Grass Lake School to continue offering quality education in 1988 based on a 1974 rate increase?

There are no guarantees on how long a rate increase will remain efficient. Definitely no one wants, or expects, to see the tax rate increase on a yearly basis.

On the other hand, 14 years is a far cry from yearly. Wouldn't we all have a hard time running a household or business based on a 14-year-old salary or budget?

If you supported the referendum in November your support is still needed on March 15. If you would like more information in order to make a decision, a call to the school should put you in contact with someone qualified to answer your questions and address your concerns.

In my opinion, good schools produce good citizens. Our children need and deserve to receive continued quality education. Our community needs and deserves good citizens.

Liz Schmehl, parent
School Dist. 36

Dist. 34

Editor:

The school board of Dist. 34 in Antioch will soon make its decision regarding its financial/enrollment problems. The favored alternative is a two-year leveling program. Under this program children will change schools every two years starting at Oakland (kindergarten-first grade) then going to Lower Grade (grades two and three), then Petty (grades four and five), onto the Upper Grade (grades six, seventh and eighth) and finally on to high school.

If this sounds chaotic to you, imagine how those of us that have to live through it feel!

The board "says" it wants to hear from parents, but only regarding facts and figures.

The sad fact is that each and every one of us has some kind of problem with a two-year leveling program.

My problem is that I will have three young children in separate schools. I am concerned about their social and emotional well-being.

I have decided that should a two-year leveling program be implemented I will support only one grade school through fundraisers, Christmas programs, open house, PTO membership, etc. I cannot and will not have my family in a constant state of anxiety.

The board needs to hear about each and every problem. I urge all parents of Dist. 34 school children to write a letter to the board and be heard!

It's important, because if you don't show some interest now, you may be kicking yourselves later. Send letters to: Dist. 34, Board of Education, Antioch Consolidated Grade Schools, 300 Highview, Antioch, Ill., 60002.

At an Antioch Chamber of Commerce meeting, Mayor Mike Haley and ACHS Supt. Warren Polley predicted rapid growth for the Antioch area while Planning Commission Chairman Ken Wierschem saw development in Antioch coming less rapidly because of the parking situation and the lack of a new major industry in the area.

Nancy Prather, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Prather, had entered the 1978 Miss Illinois-Universe Contest.

Michael Teeley was named one of the outstanding young men of Illinois at the Jaycee State Convention.

Don Morris was Antioch Lions Club president with Tom Haley serving as vice president. The Lions' directors were Joe Hunley, Jim Dayton, Chuck Cermack and Dr. Boarini.

Library to continue planning expansion, grant application

The Nippersink Dist. Library, Richmond, recently received a list of Illinois libraries that were awarded Build Illinois construction grant funds.

According to a notice from Secretary of State and State Librarian Jim Edgar's office, 18 libraries received grants ranging from $44,000 to $200,000. The grants were awarded in December and used up Build Illinois funds that had been allocated for library construction.

Illinois libraries are eligible for matching funds from a state or federal grant for building projects such as accessibility, new construction, remodeling and renovation, an addition to an existing building, and energy conservation. The state and federal grants are funded through the Illinois State Library. The maximum grant for each library political unit is $250,000 per year. In new construction, the state's share is limited to 40 percent of the project's total cost.

The Nippersink Library had applied for a construction grant to help finance a new library building to be built on Hill Rd. in Richmond Twp. The application was withdrawn when a bond issue lost in the November referendum. The building program and architectural plans, however, did receive high praise from the Illinois State Library Advisory Committee.

If the state legislature allocates more funds for library construction in the next fiscal year, Nippersink Library will again be able to apply for matching funds. A committee of library patrons and board members are now studying the building program and plans. The library board hopes to have a revised plan ready so that a building bond referendum can be on the fall ballot.

Beyer

According to Beyer, there are approximately seven and a half square miles of unincorporated land under county jurisdiction left in Lake County; another 23 unincorporated square miles falls into the 'buffer zones' of one of the county's 49 municipalities.

Beyer, who also serves as Wauconda Twp. Supervisor feels that the creation of township planning commissions as a governing body objective to both county and village interests would be an important measure for improving relations between the two.

"A township could file an objection with the county over open space use and have some control over it," said Beyer.

However, Beyer noted that a township planning commission could only be formed with a twp. population of 12,000 or more, which he feels should be met in the 1990 census.

He feels that maintenance of open space is especially important in low areas of the county that are unsuitable for development.

"We need to recapture ruined lowlands and rebuild them into wildlife habitats," said Beyer. "This can only be done through sound planning."

Beyer's experience covers the gamut of local government: He served as the mayor of Wauconda from 1965 - 1969, Wauconda Twp. Supervisor since 1969 and has been a County Board Representative since 1979. In addition he serves or has served as a chairman or member on the following County Board committees and commissions: Planning and Zoning; Legislative and Intergovernmental Relations; Law and Judicial; Public Service. He also serves or has served as a member on a number of County Board Commissions: Regional Planning Commission;

Housing Authority; Lake and McHenry County Council of Government; Solid Waste Advisory Committee; Economic Development Committee; Community Development; Joint Action Water Agency; Policy Committee for Lake County Transportation Study and Storm Water Management Planning Committee.

Jerry Beyer

"I've had 22 years of accumulated elected experience in three levels of government," said Beyer. "We have so many social classes represented within this county, and we need to represent them all- I know the people and their problems and have some insight as to what they need."

He feels that serving 'dual roles' as Wauconda Twp. Supervisor and County Board Representative have only helped his effective performance at both.

"I think that being a supervisor helps to keep me in touch with everything going on within my district," he said. "Being a County Board Representative allows me to directly handle concerns within my district, without having to go through someone else."

Ela

Attending the meeting were representatives of agencies who have asked that they be considered in fund allocation.

Agency's represented were Northeastern Illinois Special Recreation Assn.; Catholic Charities of Lake County; Omni Youth Services; Northern Illinois Council for Alcohol and Substance Abuse; Lake County Crisis Center; Lake Zurich Senior Club; Lake County Co-op Extension; Hospice of Northeastern Illinois; Lake Zurich Youth Baseball Assn.; Countryside Assn. for the Handicapped.

Ela Twp. residents have til Tuesday, March 29, to scrutinize the new budget which posted for their examination at the Ela Twp. Hall at the foot of Church St. and Rte. 22 (Main St.)

Conspicuous by their absence were stalwarts Bruce Hansen, a former member of the Twp. Board, and C. Richard Anderson, Dist. 6 Lake County representative who is running for re-election in the March 15 election.

Grever came under criticism by Anderson when Grever announced that he considered becoming a candidate in the coming Dist. 6 county elections. Grever defended his years of office as supervisor by pointing out that he only missed one Ela Twp. meeting in nearly seven years, and that was due to a "family illness."

"Let me point out that C. Richard Anderson has one of the poorest attendance records in Lake County Board attendance," said Grever at the time. He then added that "as poor as Anderson's attendance has been in the last two years, Bruce Hansen has missed 68.2 percent of the committee meetings at which his attendance was expected. Here is where the work is accomplished, where were they?"

"If interested," said a bystander, "attend the March 29 meeting of the township for more fireworks."

area of the strip center where White Hen Pantry is located.)

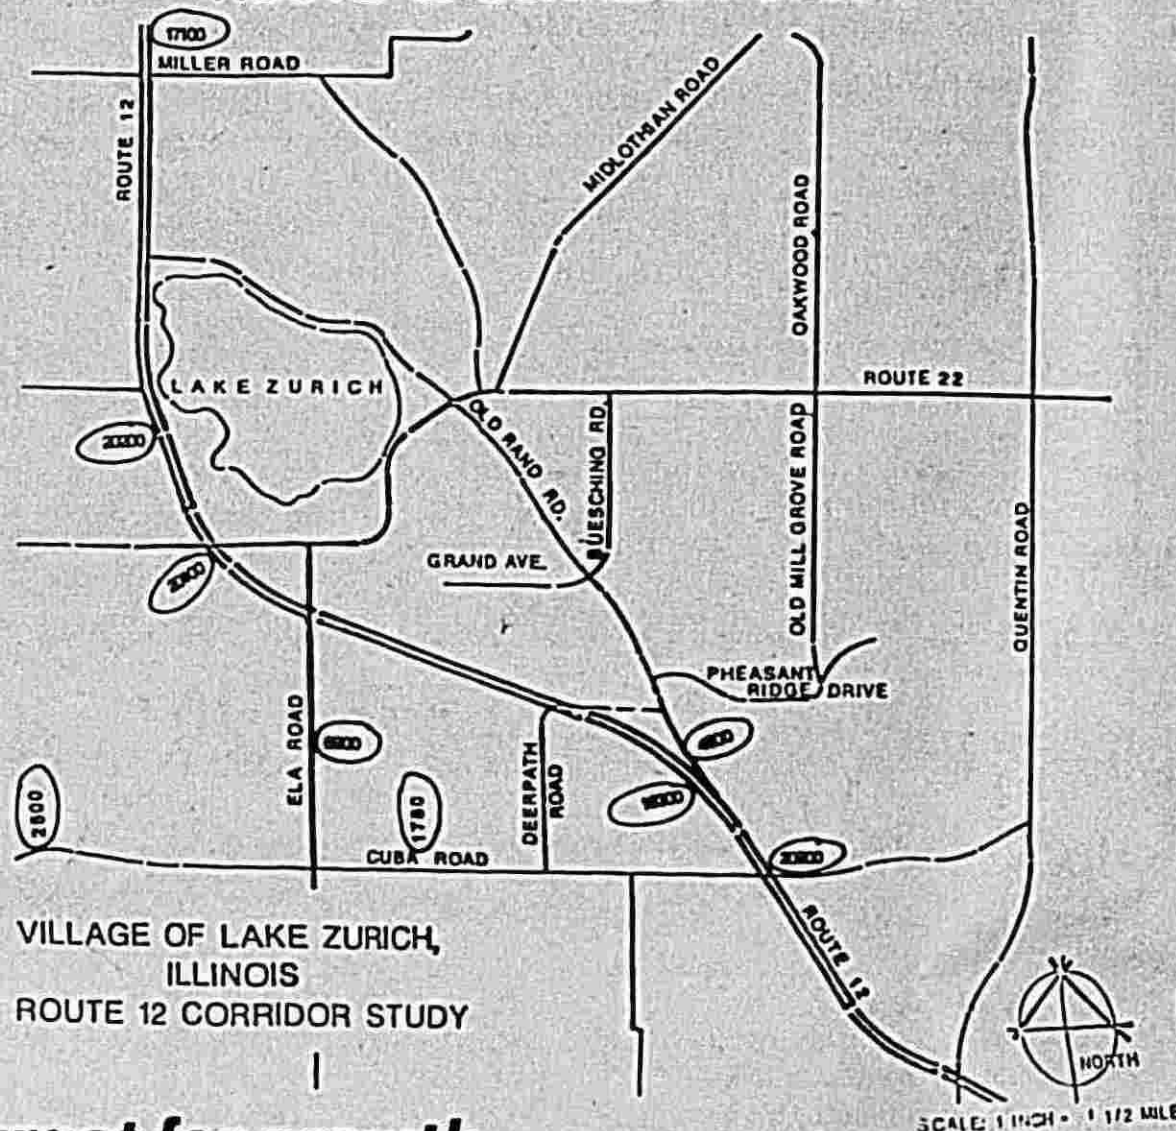

The state's comments ended with the observation that the "village should be complimented on its farsightedness in developing a master plan for this important area."

At this end of the corridor (Old Rand and Rte. 12) which will result in a new intersection with U.S. 12 under CATS (Lake County) the proposed improvement on Deerpath Rd. is to construct a two lane, 30 foot pavement with curb and gutter and storm sewer from Cuba Rd. due north to this new intersection at U.S. 12 with channelization and traffic control devices. With signalization, the cost of this improvement alone will be an estimated $900,000. It's in the vicinity of this area that the 30 acres owned by William Webb that the 250,000 square foot shopping center is proposed. The center to be built by Vantage Corp. of Dallas, headquartered in Arlington Heights, will be the focal point that will provide shopping facilities for the southwest section of Lake Zurich, serving an area that will have approximately 1,900 single family homes.

Further south from the Rte. 12 and Old Rand Rd. intersection, is the intersection of Rte. 12 and Cuba Rd. Here the owners of the 40-acres at the northeast corner of Rte. 12 and Cuba Rd., which will be known as Churchill Commons, have petitioned the planning commission for a public hearing since November to consider the zoning and annexation of their property from County Agricultural/Highway Commercial to Lake Zurich's B-2-Business zoning.

Represented by Frank Zachary, Tom Farina and Joyce Barsorta, they request a bowling center demographics. The planning commission recommends a B-2 with a (PUD) Planned Unit Development, to cover a bowling and banquet facility, restaurant, and additional retail or service uses to be agreed upon by the village with the northern area of the property to be used as office park. After noting certain other stipulations, the commission said that the "sub-committee recommends that the plan commission refer this report to the petitioners for their review and that action be suspended on this matter until the petitioner has responded."

Cancer society holds first national pigout

by IRIS MAYFIELD

The American Cancer Society (ACS) will hold its first national Great American Lowfat Pigout March 10 and invites the public-at-large to participate.

The Pigout was originated in 1986 by the Illinois division of the ACS. It is a one-day, public awareness promotion which focuses attention on the role nutrition plays in cancer prevention. The Society says "eating right may reduce an individual's cancer risk."

The Pigout calls attention to the dietary guidelines of cancer prevention from the ACS's years of research. This research was made possible through public contributions. The ACS says, "Close to 60 percent of all cancers can be prevented."

The Society's general dietary guidelines are to avoid obesity, cut down on total fat intake, and use alcohol moderately. Further, "About 450,000 people now die from cancer in the United States each year; of these, about 135,000 or 30 percent of the deaths are due to cigarette smoking," it says. Also, use moderately salt-cured, smoked, and nitrite-cured foods.

The ACS suggests a proper diet addresses a good part of the "50 to 60 percent of all cancers in this country still unaccounted for."

ACS Field Rep. for the Waukegan Area Office Lake County Unit Jean Jordan says, "We want to help people recognize they can take responsibility for cancer prevention."

ACS research has brought about specific dietary guidelines. They are to eat more high fiber foods, such as whole grain cereals and fruits and vegetables. Include cruciferous vegetables, such as cabbage, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, kohlrabi, and cauliflower. Daily include foods rich in vitamins A and C.

Similar to its yearly Great American Smokeout, the ACS urges community participation. Two such participants are Baxter Laboratories and Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

Peggy Maniscalco, Manager Lifestyles Programs at Baxter's Deerfield plant, has implemented the following. The morning of The Great American Pigout, each of the plant's 1600 employees will start the day off with an apple with Baxter's logo. "Caring for Health." The plant will also offer a lowfat, low cost lunch.

Cmdr. Carol Schemmer, RN, of the Naval Hospital Ambulatory Care Nursing Dept. has Great Lakes celebrating The Great American Pigout with a pig-pal adoption program.

Two people agree and pledge, through signing a contract, to assist each other to eat right through the year. The galley is participating with a lowfat pigout and will have pig pal information on all tables.

Field Rep. Jordan says, "All the station has been plastered with public information and posters to include fruits, vegetables and other lowfat meals to help people recognize they can take responsibility for cancer prevention." She also said, "We've got to learn to read labels. The largest factors are ones we can control."

Presently The American Cancer Society is supporting 25 grants in nutrition research, totalling more than $13 million annually, almost 20 percent of the total ACS research budget. The society says that "research findings have indicated a possible protective role of some food substances against cancer."

The Society says, in the last 45 years, except for the tremendous increase in lung cancer deaths, death rates have not increased in a significant way. The Society says that "Some sites, such as stomach and uterus, in which formerly there were high rates of cancer, have had dramatic declines in mortality during this period.

The Society warns, "However, we cannot be complacent about a disease that is the second leading cause of death in this country."

The ACS has a variety of recipes, and a "Guide to Reducing Dietary Fat." Copies may be obtained by calling the Waukegan Lake County Unit at (312) 336-9293.

New owners continue White Hen service

Tom and Mary Critz have become the new owners of the White Hen Pantry located on Grand Ave. in Lindenhurst.

Tom Critz took over ownership of the convenience store about eight weeks ago, the store itself is about five years old.

Prior to purchasing the White Hen Pantry, Tom and Mary both worked with Jewel Foods and between the two of them have had a great deal of experience in the business of retail sales.

"We plan on really emphasizing the deli that we have developed here. Our lunches will be our specialty and we'll be serving hot dogs, sandwiches, salad and soups," Tom Critz said of his new business venture.

Tom and Mary have been real encouraged with the way way things are going for them as residents of Lindenhurst.

"Lindenhurst has been very good to us. Business is going real well.

The White Hen Pantry has been included on Chamber of Commerce membership list, and Tom Critz plans to continue his affiliation with the Lindenhurst Chamber of Commerce.

"We hope to get more involved with the community," said Critz who already sponsors several little league baseball teams.

Three Lakeland voters to quiz the candidates

by KAREN WILTBERGER

Three Lakeland area voters aren't leaving the outcome of the 1988 presidential campaign to others. Instead, they are learning the issues and formulating questions to personally ask presidential candidates.

Woody Colangelo, of Round Lake Beach; Wendy Sams-Tepper, of Grayslake; and Mark Maley, of Vernon Hills have been selected to serve as members of the U.S. '88 Illinois Citizens Assembly.

They are part of 240 Illinois voters from 96 communities to participate in the "Illinois Presidential Town Hall Meetings" to be televised live by WLS-TV (ABC) in Chicago. The Democratic meeting will be March 10 and the Republican meeting on March 11.

Assembly members selected through an open application process represent the state's political and demographic diversity.

Colangelo, 42, the Illinois legislative director for the United Steel Workers of America, spends much of his time lobbying in Washington. He is primarily concerned about the foreign trade deficit, jobs for American workers and protection of retirement benefits.

"We need a truthful president who is going to look out for the workers of this country," said Colangelo, who is a running delegate for Democratic candidate U.S. Senator Paul Simon.

The next president needs to pass a fair trade policy that will regulate foreign imports that now take away American jobs, he said.

"It's hard to find American-made products," said Colangelo. "Other countries restrict our products and I think we should restrict them to protect our government and our people."

Colangelo said that instead of competing with foreign countries, the U.S. needs to increase good-paying jobs that would in turn help communities, the government and increase purchasing power.

"We need to get our industrial base back, get back to basics and create for this country," he said.

Colangelo will ask candidates for a disclosure on how much of Illinois is owned by foreign countries. In Washington, he said, he was informed that 45 percent of all buildings in Los Angeles, 40 percent in Houston and 35 percent in Minneapolis are owned by foreign countries.

"That's enough to scare people. And that doesn't include farmland, banks, etcetera..." he said.

Sams-Tepper, 40, owns Grayslake-based Beau-Geste Inc., a company that sells consumer goods to the military. She said the budget deficit needs to be the main issue in this year's campaign, however she will be asking candidates about their views on defense.

"I want to know if the candidates approve Ronald Reagan's Star Wars program, if they support the contras, and if they'd maintain a 600-ship navy," said Sams-Tepper.

Sams-Tepper, an alternate delegate for Republican candidate George Bush, supports all three in hopes of keeping the U.S. strong in an anti-war, pro-defense manner.

Sams-Tepper said Star Wars as a good weapon system that is needed primarily for smaller, aggressive countries which could build a strong defense and not be responsible with it. She is pro-contra because she doesn't want to see Russia gain another nearby strategic location.

"The issues that are important in this country are vitally important to every single person in this country. It hurts me to see that people are not involved enough to vote, much less know the issues," she said.

Sams-Tepper said the citizen's assembly is a opportunity to provide candidates with the concerns of a variety of voters.

"It's a wonderful opportunity that women are involved. Usually it is the men who are involved in the question and answer periods," she said.

Free health program at Victory

Breast care and mammography will be the two topics of discussion when the Women's Health Connection of Victory Memorial Hospital sponsors their March 26 program.

Women of all ages, under 20 and older age groups, are potential candidates for breast cancer. Medical research has proven that when breast cancer is detected early, the 10-year survival rate is increased to 100 percent.

Michael Cochran, M.D., Victory Hospital oncologist, will discuss the detection and treatment of breast cancer. Bonnie Duman, M.D., will explain the importance of the use of mammography in the detection of breast disease.

Staff nurses from the oncology unit will join these two physicians to answer questions regarding breast cancer and breast disease. The radiology staff will discuss their close work with the American Cancer Society during the month of May in promoting the use of mammography for the women in this area.

This free program will be held at Victory Memorial Hospital, 1324 N. Sheridan Rd., Waukegan, on March 26, beginning with breakfast at 8 a.m. and concluding at 11:30 a.m. For more information call (312) 360-4148.

Citizens' group aims at ousting Streicher

A petition drive has been initiated by Citizens for Better Building and Zoning requesting the removal of County Building Officer Robert Streicher.

With representation in nine of Lake County's 16 townships, the watchdog organization voted the petitioning process at a meeting Saturday, Feb. 27, in Lake Villa.

Mary Campbell, spokesperson, said signed petitions will be turned over to the full Lake County Board.

Campbell asked interested persons to contact her at (312)356-2058 for more information or to obtain petition forms.

Streicher has now been targeted as "disorganized and inept" by critics of county zoning and building inspection practices who charge that unincorporated areas are a zoning "hodge podge" because of the "anything goes" attitude in the department.

Organized Jan. 9, Citizens for Better Building and Zoning has been collecting what are termed "horror" stories of violations and irregularities.

According to Bruce Padbury, the purpose of the committee is to make the full County Board aware of "repeated and apparently deliberate negligence and shoddy enforcement on the part of the building and zoning department."

At a meeting Jan. 30, Jeff Lieber spearheaded an effort to develop a complaint form.

Apparent violations such as businesses operating illegally, improperly built structures, loads of junk and debris, and other violations persisting year after year are being investigated.

Reception to be held for appellate candidate

A reception will be held at the Gurnee Holiday Inn, March 10, from 4-7 p.m. in honor of Judge Lawrence D. Inglis, a candidate for the Appellate Court. The event is being sponsored by the Committee to Elect Judge Lawrence D. Inglis to the Second Judicial District.

Donations for this event are $25 per person and to reserve tickets, contact The Committee to Elect Judge Inglis, 3060 Sheridan Road, Zion, 60099 or call (312)746-3142.

Inglis currently sits on the Appellate Court Second District by special assignment from the Illinois Supreme Court. The Court hears appeals from the trial courts of the 13 counties which make up the Second Judicial District, including Lake and McHenry.

Inglis is seeking the Republican Nomination for the recently created "A" seat on the Appellate Court. The primary election will be held March 15.

The Gurnee Holiday Inn is located on State Route 132, Grand Avenue, just off I-294, the Illinois Tri-state Tollway.

State funds Chorus moves to Wauconda released

Sen. Adeline J. Geokaris (R-Zion) reported that Gov. James Thompson has approved the release of nearly $50,000 for two projects in Dist. 31.

For Chain of Lakes State Park, $9,400 was released for installation of a new roof for the horse stable.

For the Waukegan Armory, $40,000 was approved for replacement of the heating system. This money is supplemental funding needed to cover increased costs of the project resulting from the discovery of asbestos in the building.

Sweet Adeline's Chain O'Lakes Chorus celebrated a six year anniversary with an evening of singing, fellowship and refreshments at their new rehearsal location, the Wauconda Federated Church.

The Chain O'Lakes Chorus was formed Feb. 19, 1982, by consolidation of the Lake and McHenry county chapters. The uniting of the two choruses produced a bond of friendship and harmony, which led them to acclaim in 1985 when The Chain O'Lakes Chorus "harmonized" third place in the annual Sweet Adeline's Regional 3 Competition.

The 48-member chorus welcomes women of all ages to visit for an evening of song any Thursday, starting at 7:30 p.m. at the Wauconda Federated Church. For more information call a member in the area. McHenry County: Dottie at (815)338-2475. Lake County: Sue at (312)546-8860.

Traffic deaths

There were five traffic fatalities in Lake County in January, 1988, up from three in January, 1987 according to the Illinois Dept. of Transportation and State Police.

Executive system a 'mine field'

The specter of home rule power with its awesome appetite for increased taxation hangs over the referendum March 15, in which Lake County voters are being asked whether they want to adopt county executive form of government.

This is reason enough, in our opinion, to defeat the proposal, sending the ill-conceived and ill-timed plan down to a ringing defeat.

Despite a clumsily worded proposition, voters will not be voting for home rule if they vote for county executive. But we believe adoption of the county executive form will be a step in the direction of home rule, which no county in Illinois has adopted with the exception of Cook County. Need more be said?

Adoption of the county executive system would do exactly the opposite of what its proponents insist—give voters a greater say in the way county government is run—because it basically is centralized, autocratic government. The county executive would be the field marshal of a patronage army and the major dromo over County Board members and employees of the county because of the executive's veto power and absolute power to hire and fire.

Executive advocates miss the point when they say that current political wrangling over selection of a County Board chairman is a weakness. On the contrary. The chairman selection process is a demonstration of diversity of opinion and vitality of expression. Such a condition is the touchstone of democracy.

The built-in propensity for deadlock is the result of an even number (24) of County Board representatives. This could be changed easily and thus the deadlock eliminated.

The first at-large elected county executive could well be locked in for a lifetime job. Here's how: Under the statutes, there would be no open primary for the first county executive election. Both major parties would nominate through the caucus system. Thus, the nomination would be brokered pure and simple. Again, the people would be denied the very thing they are being promised by executive advocates—direct selection of the county's chief executive.

Instituting executive form would be treading into a mine field. Voters should defeat the March 15 referendum and then have their County Board representatives start working on machinery for an at-large election of the County Board chairman. This is what the majority of the people want.

County executive PRO CON

by CHRISTOPHER C. STARCK

How would you react if the U.S. Congress decided that the people would no longer elect the President but that they would make that choice from their own ranks? What if the state legislature was to vote to appoint the governor and take that right away from the public? Does that system sound fair based upon what we know in our American form of government? Well, that is exactly the system that is now in place in our county.

Last fall, a group of Lake County leaders circulated petitions among the citizens seeking to place on the March 15 primary ballot the question of whether Lake County should adopt the executive form of government. Under state law, the primary election is the only time that the question can be presented to voters. The petitions were submitted to a full circuit court judge who approved them and ordered that the question be placed on the ballot.

The current system of government on the county level deprives the voters of the right to choose their leader, a right that they have at all other levels of government, federal, state and local. This system, a system that has been tried and refined for over 200 years of American government, provides a method of checks and balances and gives the people a true voice in how their government operates.

County chairman not representative

The current system is simply not providing the best form of government available to the people of Lake County. The vote last May when the County Board chose its chairman, which took 25 hours and 139 ballots, is but one symptom of the inherent problems in this form of government. Under the current system, the County Board chairman is responsible to the various board members and must only please 12 of them in order to remain chairman. The chairman has no direct responsibility to the voters and, really, cannot speak for the people of Lake County since he or she is only elected within one district—one-sixth of the county.

A county executive, on the other hand, must be responsible to all of the people of the county. The performance of the executive will be reviewed and

You are urged to vote "No" on the referendum to adopt the county executive form of government for Lake County.

In generally misleading terms, the supporters say that a "Yes" vote will bring a smooth transmission of power in the administration of the departments in the county building, the highway department, the public works department, and the building commission which handles all of the real estate.

Executive will be costly and chaotic

That's nonsense. A yes vote will more likely create chaos in county government.

First of all, the people will have nothing to say about electing a chief executive for the first four years. That decision will be made by the political parties who will choose a candidate from each party to run in the November general election. The traditional method of having a number of candidates run in a primary election, which allows the people to select the best candidate, is therefore sidetracked contrary to what the Illinois Constitution prescribes. This departure from normal election procedures could quickly be challenged in the courts.

If there is an election in November, an elected chief executive immediately has the sole power to clean house of all department heads and employees. Like in Cook County and Chicago, he can establish his own patronage system. He may remove the professional county administrator and take over that same job for himself.

He can hire his own legal counsel for the same salary paid to the State's Attorney (currently over $65,000 annually), a rewarding political plum. Having lined up his own staff and advisers, the chief executive then has the sole responsibility for preparing a $118 million-plus annual county budget along with the setting of salaries including his own, which must be 150 percent or more higher than a County Board member's.

The budget is then submitted to the full County Board for approval, but in order to evaluate it properly, the County Board may well have to hire its

Sunshine state has headaches aplenty now

by BILL SCHROEDER

Idyllic Florida, land of balmy breezes, oranges and Disney World, isn't so idyllic anymore. That's a shame.

Now residents of the Sunshine State are preoccupied with crime, drugs and skyrocketing taxes.

That's what we found out a few weeks ago on a short trip to the nation's fastest growing state—23.4 percent increase in population since 1980.

Florida still has an abundance of sunshine and the kind of temperatures this time of year that thaw out midwest winter blahs. But the qualities that make Florida an attractive place to live, vacation or retire increasingly are under seizure.

We arrived to find our relatives astew over a rash of house break-ins in their neighborhood that are baffling police. They reside in a club environment with constant security. What security? They threw up their hands in despair.

Drug trafficking has become so common in southeast Florida that any house in the neighborhood could be a cache. Police flatly admit that "we're losing the battle against drugs" even as they get faster boats, more manpower and weapons and aircraft to deal with drug runners.

The clash of cultures in urban centers is causing a flight to other parts of the state. Not all the development in Florida is caused by an influx of "snowbirds." Long-time Floridians, who grumble about the fact that the new mayor of Miami did his acceptance speech in Spanish, are part of the relocation process themselves.

Florida moved past Ohio in 1984 and Illinois in 1986 and now ranks fourth as the most populous state behind California, New York and Texas. Present population of Florida exceeds 12 million, up from 9.7 million in 1980.

This kind of pressure has put unbelievable pressures on officialdom to keep up with needs for services. Highways designed to serve for a decade that were put into service three years ago are now hopelessly clogged beyond relief. Politicians are responding to the state's needs with a barrage of taxes that have the citizenry staggering and small businessmen throwing in the towel.

And still the people come—by land, sea and air.

Ft. Lauderdale International Airport has been expanded so that it resembles Honolulu Airport and capable of handling more traffic. West Palm Beach Airport, only three years ago looked upon as sort of a white elephant, now is one of the south's busiest airports. Orlando has so much overseas air traffic airport paging is multi-lingual.

The marvelous climate still is Florida's magnet because the traffic jams, shopping mall jostling and high prices are too mindful of life back home.

We enjoyed our moment in the sun. Right now, though, we'll take headaches northern style.

MORE SHOOTING—Northbrook Sports Club isn't the only shooting club in the vicinity of Hainesville and Grayslake, where a group of citizens is upset about gunfire noise. There's another gun club on Alleghany Rd. Ah, the classic finger pointing scenarios. Northbrook officers already have pointed out that their club has been accused of disturbing the neighborhood when they didn't have a member within miles of the shooting grounds.

WORTH WATCHING—Students at the College of Lake County are taking a cue from Chicago's famous Bug House Square to get on their soapboxes for campaign speeches Monday, March 14, in the main lobby at the Grayslake campus, a day before the spring primary. It'll be a colorful event with buttons, signs, hats and lots of spectators.

Students are from the tandem speech and American politics classes team-taught by professors Tommie Ems and Dan Ryan.

YANKEE CONNECTION—There's a distinct Lake County connection in the front office of the New York Yankees now that a native of Waukegan, Rick Bay, has taken over a top executive position. Jerry Molitor, the friendly Standard Oil dealer, may have to step aside as the county's No. 1 Yankee fan in favor of the Bay family. There ought to be a good-sized delegation of new Yankee fans in County Stadium in April when the New Yorkers make their first visit of the season to Milwaukee.

PRO: Independent leadership vital to county

scrutinized every four years by all of the voters of Lake County in the general election. Your elected party representative will choose the first candidates to run in November, like the presidential candidates are chosen. Thereafter, the candidates will compete in a primary with the winner running in a general election.

Under the executive form, countywide issues which transcend County Board districts such as planning, water resources, storm water management, health, solid waste disposal, and mass transportation will be presented to the voters on a regular basis for their consideration and review. The various county board members run only in their districts and, consequently, downplay these issues and campaign on popular local issues only. Lake County needs a leader who can, independently, address these serious concerns on behalf of the people of this county as a whole rather than for a particular district.

Like it or not, Lake County is growing. We need a person who can manage this growth with plan and direction and with a view toward the good of the entire county. That person simply does not exist under the present form of government. There is nowhere for business, labor, conservation groups, developers, open space proponents or other concerned persons to turn for guidance and leadership.

Under the executive form of government, county government would function in much the same way as it does now. The County Board would still function as the prime decisionmaking body, similar to the Congress, state legislature or city council, with the executive acting as their leader, like the President, governor or mayor. Each board member's voice would be heard and their constituents represented at the County Board meetings. The board would still approve all appointments to the boards and commissions and would approve the budget, which would be submitted by the executive.

The main distinction of the executive form is that the people would have a leader chosen by them to represent their interests, rather than a person chosen by the County Board who is responsible only to the board members. Since the executive would be the only person in county government elected by all of the voters, that person would have veto power to ensure that the wishes of the taxpayers are followed. The board can, of course, override any veto as in other levels of government. A chairman elected by the people would have no veto, and thus could not truly protect the taxpayers.

The cost of the county executive would be minimal initially, and the position would pay for itself, as it has in other counties, and save tax dollars as time goes on. Currently, much of the salary exists and is being paid to the County Board chairman; the staff exists in the form of support staff for the chairman, and the office space exists. With an eye on fiscal management and reduction in the duplication of efforts, the position of county executive could coordinate functions and services throughout the county and save us all tax dollars.

The election of a county executive by the people of Lake County will be good for all. Leadership and direction will be clearly mandated, responsibility will be pinpointed results will be critically measured and acceptance or rejection of performance will be evident each election day. The days of county employees having "24 bosses" will end and the days of the County Board having 500,000 bosses—the people of Lake County—will begin!

Listen carefully when criticisms are made of the executive form. You will find that the loudest protests come from County Board members, with a vested interest, who do not want their power deleted and do not want the voters to control their actions. The vast majority of our elected county and state officials strongly favor the proposal. They have nothing to gain or lose, except better government in Lake County.

Vote "yes" to adopt the executive form of government on March 15. It is truly the best way to give a voice to all of the people, to give the taxpayers power to control taxes and spending and to provide the best government possible in Lake County, a goal set by members of all political persuasions.

(Editor's note: Christopher Starck, Waukegan attorney, is a member of Citizens for Lake County, the group which is pushing for passage of the referendum on county executive.)

CON: No separation of powers

own professional staff and legal counsel (as is done in the U.S. Congress and the State Legislature) to get its job done properly.

Elected county officials who are uncomfortable now with the scrutiny that the present County Board committee give to their budgets may prefer dealing with a single chief executive who most likely will be a member of the same political party. Meetings between an elected chief executive and his staff, or between an elected chief executive and elected county official, pertaining to the preparation of budgets, are not necessarily open to the public or to the media, as is the case now when the County Board and its committees prepare the budgets.

The County Executive Act does not provide for an important liquor commissioner, a post held by the County Board chairman under the present system. Neither does the act clarify the authority of the Public Building Commission, which handles all Lake County buildings, jails and other real estate, when the County Executive Act turns over that authority to an elected chief executive.

The authority behind the Illinois County Executive Act came from the 1970 Illinois Constitution, implemented by the state legislature, which allowed Illinois counties to establish a home rule-elected chief executive form of government when approved by a majority of voters by referendum. Because of its large population, Cook County automatically became a home rule-chief executive government body, although in its case the chief executive must hire a professional administrator to manage the county business.

However, no other county in Illinois chose to have a home rule-chief executive form of government. Later, in 1985, the Illinois legislature amended the statute to allow a referendum which would allow the people to vote separately on the questions of home rule and county chief executive.

Now there is considerable opinion that believes that this amendment mutilates the intent of the Illinois Constitution. If any county should implement this amended act, a series of legal questions will arise which can only be settled in the courts. Hence the feeling by many student groups that the passage of a referendum on the County Executive Act minus the Home Rule feature will create county government confusion while constitutional questions are being resolved, and which could likely erase the entire selection. Then where do we go?

Referendums under this amended act were defeated in Champaign and Winnebago Counties. DuPage County had a blue ribbon task force which studied the County Executive Act for over a year, and then recommended that there be no referendum until the legislature resolved the question marks so obviously in the present amended act.

Among other questions, it was pointed out that the amended County

Executive Act does not provide for a "separation of powers," as its supporters claim, between a powerful chief executive and a legislating County Board, because an elected chief executive, in addition to the extraordinary powers stated above, will sit as chairman of all County Board meetings and will vote to break ties in many likely decisions involving his own recommendations.

The board and a study committee of the respected Lake County League of Women Voters advises delay in approving this referendum question because of the serious constitutional questions that must first be resolved. Study groups and others believe that the proper time to vote on this question, assuming that the legislature makes the necessary changes in the act, is during the 1990-92 mandated redistricting of County Board member districts and the review of the size of the County Board. Why bother upsetting county government when the whole package can be put together at one time?

If you want a County Board Chairman elected by the people, the Illinois statutes do provide for the people to elect a chairman "at large" while retaining the present county administrator form of government. Some Illinois counties do have this form of government operation.

In the meantime, please vote "No" to both questions on the March 15 County Executive and Home Rule referendum.

Letters To The Editor

County executive 'not bad'

Editor:

We have all read and heard both sides of the county executive argument until we think we know all the ramifications and results.

Perhaps we should look at the experiences of other counties. Cook County has had a county board president for years. Now Cook County has a number of problems, most notable of which is having Chicago right in the middle of it. Yet, in spite of the fighting, in spite of the Democratic machine, Cook County seems to survive all of the above and a county executive!

Amidst all the "reform" and "counter reform" going on in that county, not one voice has been raised about their county executive style of government. Not one watchdog group has mentioned it.

The reason is that the county executive style of government has worked out very well in Cook County. The ability of the voters to "vote out" a bad county board president has resulted in the executives working hard at their jobs so as to have a chance of re-election.

Who gave permission?

Editor:

One has to question whether Fox Lake Mayor Dam's judgment is sound. Take for instance the cab business being run out of a residential district. Is letting this issue drag out really helping the situation? Time heals all wounds, but surely the doctor-mayor realizes that when a "Thorne" is left under the skin, it will continue to fester.

Everyone realizes that there are two sides to every story, and this issue is no different. On the one hand, you have "disgruntled neighbors" (quote from Trustee Paull, who seems to have a flair for offensive remarks) and a cab company operating its business out of the same and otherwise peaceful subdivision. Are these neighbors really just "disgruntled," or is this just a tactic of political stonewalling, i.e., minimizing the situation and making it sound that the property owners who are most directly affected are a bunch of troublemakers. This would certainly benefit the local politicians and switch the attention and condemnation of the public to someone other than themselves. After all, who gave the business the OK to operate out of this subdivision? Maybe it was a bunch of "disgruntled politicians" with nothing better to do but sit around and make bad decisions.

ASSE helps to broaden young peoples' horizons

By RUS MAYFIELD

A deep fjord in Norway, a creviced mountain-pass in Switzerland, a g'day from down under, are a few of the wanderlust offerings from the American Scandinavian Student Exchange (ASSE) program. Other offerings include the senses and add wings to the imagination.

ASSE is looking for local teenagers, between 15 and 18 years old, offering choices to Scandinavia, France, Spain, Germany, Holland, as well as Britain, Switzerland, Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Then there's the other side of the coin, or in this instance, the other side of the ocean. ASSE is looking for host families in the new world: the land of skyscrapers, Disneyland, too many cars and TV sets.

Area Coordinator Julia Wendorf, of ASSE's North Illinois office, says, "The basis is creating world peace and international understanding. The organization began during World War II as a response to Hitler's Youth Organization. They sent young people to different countries on exchange programs.

"Sweden then became interested in doing something similar and it grew into this."

What it grew into, Rita Gupta took hold of. She exchanged her junior year at Libertyville High School for a year in Norway. Gupta, now a college freshman in Champaign, set off on an odyssey that took her to mountain peaks of learning and valleys of winter isolation.

The four legs of her trip from O'Hare to Oslo, Norway, started with her arrival at New York's Kennedy Airport. She was met there by an ASSE representative. Second was a stopover flight to Helsinki, Finland, where she went into the city. The third leg of her trip, she flew to Oslo, Norway. Last, helped on board the train to Oslo by an ASSE representative, she was met by her host family on arrival.

"I was terrified. I was so scared," she said, from the long trip and the late hour, having arrived at 1:30 in the morning.

After a week's stay in the vacation cabin in Oslo, she and her host family went to their home in Bergen.

"Norway is not in the dark ages," Gupta said. "They are very advanced, have all the luxuries, but (the country) is very spread out. It has a lot of coast and mountains, so a lot of people are isolated. I lived 40 minutes from the center of the city and was dependent on the bus. Teens rely on buses, not cars like here."

She said not having a background in the language left her at a disadvantage, but allowed her to "get away with murder" in school. She did learn the language and made friends, but isolation was a problem for her.

"Winter was very hard. It rained about 300 days a year. My family was very supportive," she added.

Summing up her experience, Gupta said she learned several things. "I learned how to manage my money." When she left on her trip, "my parents gave me a handful of traveler's checks and they said don't ask for more. It sounds cruel, but it was great."

"I learned not to be defensive. I met other exchange students. We talked about cultures, the good and bad in each. Other American students got the most defensive, took the least criticism."

"One of the biggest things is to get along with people."

She related how she got along better with her host sister at the end of her year stay than at the beginning.

ASSE is looking for local families to host boys and girls from Scandinavia, France, Spain, Germany, Holland, Great Britain, Switzerland, and Japan. Coordinator Wendorf says host families can be single parents, widowed or divorced.

Terry Peterson of Antioch, along with her three children, Jason, 11, Jeremy, 10, and Angie, 8, are hosting Nadine Webeck, 18, from Sweden.

Peterson, who works at Abbott Laboratories, says she first became aware of ASSE through an ad in the Antioch Reporter. She said she considered an exchange student because, "I thought it would be inspirational to my kids to keep their grades up."

Webeck is from Arnet, a small town that sits almost in the middle of Sweden, where her mother, stepfather and 11-year-old brother live.

Webeck said she came here because, "I thought it was a good opportunity to see another country, and learn about the American way of life. We can't pick our subjects. Here I thought I could pick things I wasn't able to study at home."

Julie and David Anderson of Wauconda are the host family to Andreas Voigt, 18, from Essen, Germany. The Andersons responded to an ASSE ad in the Wauconda Leader, shortly after Julie had a miscarriage. Julie said Voigt is very mature and almost self-sufficient.

Reflecting on his experience, Voigt said, "You see another culture, another people. You raise your horizon. You see what people think about. What you already thought about you compare."

"There is not that much of a difference between Americans and Germans, between normal people. They just want to live. They work to get money to buy things, the way it goes today."

Coordinator Wendorf said the application process is competitive. Voigt said he typed his application letter because he was afraid no one could read his handwriting. He also included a two-page collage of family photographs.

ASSE offers programs from 28 days to one year abroad. Costs range from $1,550 to $3,800, and ASSE can assist in financing. There is a non-refundable application fee of $45. Applicants must be between 15 and 18, be in the upper third of their class or have a B average. A C-plus average or better is needed for the summer.

Lake Forest to get acute care psychiatric hospital

by GLORIA DAVIS

Lake Forest will be seeing a new psychiatric hospital in the near future now that the Ill. Health Planning Board has issued a certificate of need to the Psychiatric Inst. of America out of Washington D.C.

The 70-bed, $7,660,000 hospital will be built at 2864 Ballard Dr. and will offer acute psychiatric in and out patient care for children, adolescents and adults.

It will be the only acute psychiatric care facility in Lake County.

There will be four separate treatment units; one for neuropsychological evaluation (18 beds); a dual diagnostic unit for the treatment of acutely ill adolescents or for substance abuse (18 beds); a child care and an acute psychiatric child care unit (16 beds).

The hospital will also implement a psychogerontology program offering acute psychological care for adults and senior citizens.

The hospital will also have programs working in conjunction with community agencies involved in psychiatric care and psychological testing.

In-Touch program receives $10,000 grant from Aetna

The In-Touch substance abuse prevention program has been announced as a recipient of a $10,000 focus grant award from the Aetna Life and Casualty Co. The focus grant is provided to organizations that develop unique programs in the areas of leadership, arts, reform and other human services.

This partnership between In-Touch and Aetna will make possible the purchase of a substance abuse prevention curriculum to be used in selected elementary school districts in Lake County.

The project will focus on grades K-three. "This grade level is often neglected in substance abuse prevention efforts," said JoAnne Griffin-Milach, coordinator of the In-Touch program. "It is more common to see programs directed to older students, but many of these children have already made a decision on whether or not to use drugs."

"Prevention efforts are more effective in the early years, when children are developing the attitudes and decision-making abilities that can help them choose not to use drugs," she continued. "They will be developing healthy and positive attitudes about their bodies and minds."

The project curriculum, "Growing Up Well," uses puppets, discussion, stories, and games to promote self-esteem and help establish a sense of personal control. It is also used to inform the children about harmful and potentially harmful substances in their environment, such as poisonous household products and the misuse of certain common drugs.

The In-Touch program offers consultation, technical assistance, and training opportunities to schools and communities to develop comprehensive substance abuse programs.

The office is located at the College of Lake County, Grayslake campus. The program is jointly sponsored by the Lake County Health Dept. Substance Abuse Program and the Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse.

Transform Riptides to Paradise Cove

by BILL DOTSON

Archie Drury had a dream of Paradise that he wanted to share with everyone. With help from his father and co-owner, he has made a reality of that dream of Paradise...Cove, that is.

Paradise Cove is the new incarnation of what was formerly Riptides, located on Chapel Hill Rd., just south of the Johnsburg Bridge. Drury said that people are really starting to get excited about it.

"I've got the Chamber of Commerce calling me up constantly," he said. "They're very enthusiastic about us coming here."

The reason for this excitement is that Drury is spreading the word that big plans are in the works there. How big? There are going to be Hawaiian luaus, complete with pig roasts and live entertainment that includes professional fire dancers and hula dancers. There will be authentic Door County fish boils featuring fish imported from Sturgeon Bay, Wis. Mondays and Tuesdays will be '50s and '60s nights featuring appropriate music and dinner prices those nights will be "rolled back". Also, there will be clambakes, lobster boils, and steer roasts.

It gets even bigger. Paradise Cove has a private harbor in which Drury hopes to have boaters docking for the night. There will be electrical hook-ups for the boats as well as a bathhouse for showering. Drury also has an idea for what to do with the 20 acres of land that extends from the restaurant/dance club out to Bay Rd. He would like to eventually build a hotel on it.

Drury outlined how plans for the immediate future will develop. Paradise Cove was set to open Wednesday, March 2. "The following Wednesday, (March 9), we'll open for lunch. Then the next week, we'll start the '50s and '60s nights. The week after that, we'll start our brunches. Soon after that, we'll have limited banquet rental for up to 300 people. Eventually, we'll be doing catering," he said.

The time frame on the other events is not definite yet but Drury said "Weather permitting, we'll start the luaus in June and hold them every Saturday. I'd like to start the fish boils as soon as the weather will allow it."

Drury expects to have little trouble running these projects smoothly with his staff of approximately 75 people.

"I've done this stuff before and we're going to be doing it on a regular basis," he said.

Describing the logic behind his rollback prices nights, Drury said, "I know we're not going to make much money on that but it will pay off in the long run. The idea is that we give people a good deal, get them to leave talking, and they'll come back."

'Isn't It Romantic' will be on CLC Theatre stage

Wendy Wasserstein's romantic comedy, "Isn't It Romantic?" will be presented by the College of Lake County Theatre for five performances March 11, 12, 18, and 19 at 8 p.m., and at 2 p.m. March 13, in the CLC Theatre on the Grayslake campus.

This bright, witty, sentimental play deals with contemporary feminine dilemma: the conflict between having personal independence and romantic fulfillment.

The story centers around the post-college careers of two former classmates, Janie Blumberg (played by Beth Gareis of Libertyville), who is Jewish, short, slightly out of shape, and aspiring to be a writer; and Harriet Cornwall (Virginia Jones of Grayslake), who is a tall, attractive WASP.

Others in the cast include Steve Martin of Mundelein, Sylvia Anderson of Grayslake, Rick French of Lake Villa, Will Tremont of Wauconda, Ellen Lancaster of Wildwood, and Eric Hall of Libertyville.

The play is being directed by Robert Coscarelli, a CLC theatre instructor, with help from assistant director Ann Allen, a CLC staff member. The set designer is Thomas B. Mitchell, resident designer for Absolute Theatre Co. in Chicago.

Tickets are $4 for the general public and $2 for CLC students, staff and alumni.

For tickets and information, call the activities box office on main campus at (312)223-6601, ext. 300.

Barat to bring 'Jacques Brel' to stage of Hilton Theatre

Barat College's Performing Arts Center will present the musical "Jacques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris," at 8 p.m. March 4, 5.

Tickets for "Jacques Brel" are $7 for general admission and $5 for students and seniors. For reservations, call the Drake Theatre Box Office, (312)295-2620.

ROCK TRACKS

By Rob Ferrus

RCA Records recently announced the dates for the second leg of the Love And Rockets' "Earth. Sun. Moon." tour. The performances will kick off April 14th in Washington, D.C., and will include major venues throughout the continental U.S. The tour will wind up on May 8th in Los Angeles.

Though "Earth. Sun. Moon." became an instant Number One college radio and alternative chart topper, the album and first single "No New Tale To Tell" are both enjoying mainstream success. Love And Rockets is made up of guitarist/vocalist Daniel Ash, bassist/vocalist David J., drummer/vocalist Kevin Haskins, who formed the group two years ago from such English bands as Bauhaus, The Jazz Butcher, Tones On Tail and The Jaywalkers. They first received commercial recognition with a remake of the Temptations' 1970 hit "Ball Of Confusion," which later went gold.

Notes Of Interest: Joe Jackson will score the upcoming George Lucas — Francis Ford Coppola movie, Tucker, due in August. Tom Waits is finishing editing his concert movie which will be out in September, as well as a new record for the spring. At last month's Rock 'N Roll Hall of Fame ceremonies, rock fan Muhammad Ali told reporter Lisa Robinson he was there because he "was brought up on Little Richard." And the shoes Mick Jagger tossed into the crowd during the jam session belonged to Beach Boy Mike Love, who had earlier stunned everyone with his antagonistic remarks and who remained shoeless. I guess you could say he stinks. Robert Plants' next album, titled Now And Zen, is due out any day now.

Lakeland TRAVEL

In port

A tourist haggles for bargains at the harborside market in Cabo San Lucas, one of Stardancer's ports on the Lakeland Cruise to the Mexican Riviera. Other ports of call will include Puerto Vallarta and Mazatlan.

Lakeland Cruise congenial luxury at a low price

by DENNIS AND MARY O'BRIEN

The Lakeland Cruise to the Mexican Riviera is a once-in-a-lifetime chance to enjoy a once-in-a-lifetime bargain.

If you don't believe it, estimate how much it would cost per day for a vacation in a first class hotel in an exotic spot thousands of miles from Chicago. Be sure and add gourmet meals, air fare, and the cost of transportation to and from airports.

We bet you will come up with a figure in the $200 to $400 a day range. Yet cruising with Lakeland costs a small fraction of that, and you get to visit not one but three exciting resorts—Puerto Vallarta, Mazatlan and Cabo San Lucas.

In fact, the cost is so low that the famous cruise line which operates the Stardancer won't allow the price to be advertised. You have to call (312)948-9116, or (312)724-7354, to get it. So call today—and be startled and delighted that you live in Lakeland.

Your call will bring a beautiful, 24-page full color brochure which will give you an idea of just how much fun it will be to cruise to the Mexican Riviera with friends and neighbors from Lakeland. The brochure also contains the regular prices of the cruise—so you can compare with the low Lakeland price.

The Lakeland price is all-inclusive, including round-trip airfare to Stardancer's sailing point, Los Angeles. You may see cruises advertised elsewhere with prices which seem a shade lower—but the fine print reveals that airfare is not included.

We can only hold our reservations for a limited time, so resolve now to be a part of that congenial group of Lakelanders signing up for the cruise.

Mexico's native markets are shopper's paradise

by DENNIS AND MARY O'BRIEN

Passengers on the Lakeland Cruise will find a shopper's paradise in the Mexican ports of call, whether they go to a tianguis, (a native market) or to a boutique at a fancy resort.

Art and craft merge in Mexican goods and so do Spanish and Indian traditions, so the variety of merchandise is almost endless. There is glass from Guadalajara, pottery and copper from Michoacan, silver from Taxco, opals from Queretaro. From Puebla come carved onyx and the famous talavera tiles; bark paintings come from Guerrero and hammocks from the Yucatan. Many tourists enrich their wardrobes with rebezos (shawls), embroidered skirts and blouses and guayabera shirts for men.

You can find these things in shops throughout the country. You can also find hand-somely carved chess sets, charming nativity sets made of ceramic, onyx or wood and leather fashioned into just about anything, from huaraches to belts, boots and saddles—all these at bargain prices.

The major hotels all have shops with good selections of clothing, jewelry and artifacts, but you can usually find the same items for less in local markets or from street and beach vendors. Just look for a man wearing a stack of sombreros on his head or a woman with straw baskets hung from her shoulders and get ready to bargain.

Half the fun is the haggling, an accepted and honorable practice south of the Border, except in the fancy hotel and downtown shops where the price you see is the price you get.

If your eye is caught by a colorful blanket with an intricate design, the tactic is definitely not to show enthusiasm for that blanket. Ask the price of one or two other blankets first—then offer half that for the blanket you want. Make a counter offer which is just slightly above your first offer. If you don't get a counter offer back, walk away. Usually a little distance between you and the seller will get you the price you want.

Language

American tourists are so important to Mexico that virtually everyone in the industry must learn English. Therefore, you need never worry about being understood.

Visiting Alaska in the winter

by JIM WARNKEN

President, North Star Travel

It's Feb. 18 and I'm in Alaska! No, my plane to Florida wasn't hijacked by Eskimos. I'm here by choice. It's also not 30 below zero, either. In fact, it's 44 here in Anchorage at 9 p.m.

That's a little warm for this time of year, but not too unusual. The average temperature of Anchorage in February is actually about five degrees warmer than Chicago. Lots more snow, though.

So, the weather's no better or worse than back home. Why go to Alaska in the winter?

For one, the magnificent mountains of this rugged state are more spectacular when covered in a blanket of white snow. The blue icebergs created by the glaciers are a sight to see.

The Alaskans are also known for their winter festivals. I'm here for what is known as the "fur rendezvous." This carnival has its roots back when the fur trappers, after spending all winter in the wilderness, would bring their furs to town to sell. They would also work off some cabin fever.

Today's fur rendezvous events include dog sled races, a snowshoe softball game, carnival rides, and some more unusual events. Ever watch an outhouse race? How about a 10-key calculator contest? The long winter still affects these people.

Next week is the famous Iditarod dog sled race. This is a 1,000 mile race which has, by the way, been won by women the last three years. A tee-shirt reads, "Alaska, where men are men and the Iditarod is won by women."

Speaking of dog sleds, this is an excellent way to see Alaska. No, I haven't been out in the cold too long. You can take a three-day dog sled excursion into the McKinley area complete with guides, blankets, meals and lodging. Other trips can be as short as a three-hour adventure into glacier country.

If you do get to Anchorage, either in the winter or summer, you must stop at the Birdhouse. It's an interesting little bar between Anchorage and Alyeska ski resort—it's Alaska's version of Blarney's Island.

Poitier returns in 'roller coaster' film

Bill Dotson

A few months back, this column featured a debate on actresses who possess that rare star quality known as a commanding "screen presence." When it comes to actors who have that trait, there is no doubt that Sidney Poitier ranks very high on the list. After a 10-year absence from the silver screen, he has chosen to make a comeback with the action/adventure film "Shoot To Kill".

Poitier has always been one of my favorite actors, with films like "A Patch Of Blue", "Guess Who's Coming To Dinner", "They Call Me Mister Tibbs", and, of course, "In The Heat Of The Night", to name a few.

Its good to see him in action again. In "Shoot To Kill", he is basically playing Virgil Tibbs again, only this time, his name is Warren Stanton and he is an FBI agent instead of a policeman. But that's ok, because he does it very well.

Tom Berenger costars as mountain man Jonathan Knox, who guides Stanton into the wilderness as they search for the killer who has kidnapped Knox's girlfriend, Sarah, played by Kirstie Alley. (Yes, that's Kirstie, not Kristie.)

The mixture of annoyance and grudging respect that Poitier and Berenger feel toward each other is the foundation of the film's conflict and its humor. The two play off each other very well.

Actor Clancy Brown plays Steve, the psycho, as one of the slimiest villains ever to ooze across the screen.

The movie is a roller coaster ride from beginning to end, featuring some heart-stopping action scenes, particularly the one in which Poitier must rescue Berenger from falling from a cliff. There is also a car chase near the end that, surprisingly, is really exciting.

Nitpicking complaint dept: I don't believe the scene in which Poitier scares away a bear by going "B-Bllggghhh!" (or something like that). Also, would FBI agents really wear windbreakers that say "FBI" on them? (Well, maybe, if it stands for "Federal Bikini Inspector.")

Granted, the plot here is nothing new. There are elements that remind me of other movies, including one of Poitier's own best, "The Defiant Ones." But the chemistry between him and Berenger is what makes it work anyway. I don't mind taking a ride I've been on before if I'm taking it with people I like. Welcome back, Sidney.

'Shoot To Kill' hits the bulls-eye

Dan Becker

Does a movie that makes you sit on the edge of your seat, bite your fingernails down to the cuticle and pull at your hair for one hour and 30 minutes sound like a movie you would like to go see?

Well, "Shoot to Kill" will do that to you from the opening scene to the final gunshot.

Sidney Poitier is back. He's looking good, walking tall and carrying a gun again, this time as FBI Investigator Warren Stanton. Stanton is on the hunt holding a personal vendetta against a psychopathic killer (Clancy Brown). Once the killer runs off to the northern mountains, to escape to Canada, Stanton needs the help of woodsman Jonathan Knox (Tom Berenger).

Once the killer hits the trail in the mountains, he teams up with a group of five other "outward bound" city boys learning from Sarah (Kirstie Alley) how to survive in the woods.

Knox learns that his sweetheart Sarah is unknowingly with the killer, and reluctantly takes Stanton along because he believes Stanton will slow him down. Stanton forcefully "persuades" Knox to take him up to the mountains regardless.

During the search for the killer, Stanton's and Knox's lifestyles are the basis of the conflicts that wraps them around each other's throats.

One of the reasons why the movie does move so well is from the little teasers the director and writers utilized. For example, when the killer joins the other campers in the mountains, the audience never knows which of them is the killer, until he throws all of the campers off the cliff. The moment of realization of who the killer is hits the audience with a surprise.

Poitier and Berenger work well together, though the movie does have several flaws. They do try to put humor into the situation, and many times it seemed just that... "they tried". Other flaws, such as "why did the killer keep Sarah as a hostage, even though he has made it to Canada."

But do not let the slight inaccuracies keep you from seeing the movie, as it is a suspense filled, action packed, thriller.

It is not rare to jump back in your seat, close your eyes, or open wide at least three times during the movie.

Poet Roeske will give public collection reading

Poet and College of Lake County creative writing instructor Paulette Roeske will give a public reading from her recently published collection, "Breathing Under Water," at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 24, in Room C003 at CLC's Grayslake campus.

"Roeske's poems keep us suspended between light and darkness in their insistent probing of the 'underwater' aspect of our lives, the depths that fascinate and terrify," said poet Lisel Mueller of "Breathing Under Water." "This is a beautiful, haunting collection."

Roeske, a resident of Evanston, founded and conducts the Lake County Writer's Workshop at CLC and has also led workshops at the Ragdale Foundation and Chicago area libraries.

She is the recipient of several awards, including an Illinois Arts Council Award and the Illinois Writers New Broadside Award.

Her poems have appeared widely in journals such as "Poetry," "The Virginia Quarterly Review," and "Chicago Review," as well as in several anthologies.

Roeske will have poems published in upcoming issues of "Kansas Quarterly" and "Hawaii Review" and short fiction that will appear in "The Montana Review" and "Other Voices."

The reading, which is free and open to the public, will be followed by a book signing and reception. Copies of

"Breathing Under Water," published by Stormline Press in Urbana, are available at the

CLC Bookstore and will be available at the reading. For more information, call (312) 223-6601, ext. 555 or 550.

Now's the time to consider home improvement options

As warm afternoon sunshine and gentle breezes signal the end of winter, sweaters and blankets are returned to storage and spring cleaning and home improvement projects begin.

Whether the living area is a tiny apartment or a sprawling house, or something in-between, the change of seasons invariably necessitates rearranging and reallocating closet space; often it also ushers in a flurry of renovating and refurbishing.

From a general brightening of the decor or installing a new patio, to replacing old kitchen appliances or wallpapering the dining room, no options should be overlooked during this period of re-evaluation.

Perhaps this is the right time to have hardwood floors sanded down and polyurethaned to bring out their natural beauty, or maybe the bathroom needs to be retiled to prevent moisture from ac-

Vinyl siding covers solid investments

The stock market's fall from grace has convinced many consumers that owning a home isn't just prudent; it's one of the most solid investments anyone can make.

To remain so, it has to be kept in good repair. Since upkeep can be time consuming as well as expensive, homeowners look to invest in building materials and products that are designed to reduce maintenance indoors and out. Frost-free refrigerators and self-cleaning ovens are examples.

Another is solid vinyl siding, says the Vinyl Siding Institute, because it eliminates the bother and cost of painting every few years and it all but takes care of itself. It will not rust, pit, dent or corrode. Since it has color clear through, there's no surface color to peel or wear off. About the only maintenance it requires is an occasional washing with a mild detergent and water.

Available in a variety of designs, textures and colors, vinyl siding is suitable for most architectural styles ranging from traditional to contemporary.

It also comes with matching accessories such as downspouts, fascia, gutters, soffits, shutters and other trim for additional low maintenance protection.

For a copy of the free booklet "What Homeowners Want to Know About Solid Vinyl Siding," send a stamped, self-addressed business size envelope to VSI, 355 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y., 10017.

cumulating along poorly grouted edges.

Homeowners may find that a new coat or two of paint, restructured landscaping or even the construction of a gazebo are all possible ways for improving the appearance and their enjoyment of their home's exterior and grounds.

Large or small, it is best to plan each home improvement project carefully before it is undertaken.

Stopping midway to make a trip to the hardware store for nails of the correct size can be a time-consuming interruption of the home handyman's allotted time, and it is advisable that all necessary supplies and equipment be assembled prior to beginning even the simplest of tasks.

Listing each item and shopping before hand will help ensure that unexpected problems will be all the less likely to interfere with the painless execution of the project at hand.

If supplies are needed for more than one job, coordinating a single trip to the lumber yard or home center—or both—will be a significant benefit.

One common pitfall for the do-it-yourselfer is the tendency to underestimate the amount of time that a project will take from start to finish.

Setting realistic goals and maintaining a reasonable pace will help avoid frustration and exhaustion.

Being aware of the limits of one's skills is also important. While it takes no particular expertise to remove storm windows or drive a nail into the wall to hang a picture, not everyone possesses the carpentry skills that are necessary to build a loft bed, or the masonry experience that is required for installing a fieldstone patio.

If, however, your goal is to increase basic do-it-yourself skills, this, too can be accomplished. Compare notes with friends and neighbors working on similar projects; perhaps you could even contribute as a working observer by assisting in the execution of a task that you would like more experience in.

When planning home improvement projects, accomplishing the desired goal will give everyone a feeling of pride and satisfaction.

And, best of all, the outcome of your projects will bring tangible results in the form of home improvement.

Flowering shrubs can be easily forced indoors

This year, spring can come early to the home by snipping branches from flowering shrubs and forcing them into bloom.

According to James A. Fizzell, University of Illinois horticulturist in Cook County, many shrubs by now have flower buds that are formed and ready to bloom. There has been sufficient cold weather to break dormancy and all the buds require to burst open is warmth and moisture.

This procedure is quite simple, says Fizzell. Anyone, even apartment dwellers, can succeed with this project.

Start by selecting branches loaded with flower buds. You can identify the flower buds because they are more plump and more round than leaf buds. When cutting, select branches that have curves or bends that will create interesting blooming arrangements.

Since the branches will be in water several weeks, many of the clean cut ends will have a tendency to heal or form callus. This is not desirable because it restricts water uptake.

To prevent this healing, thoroughly pound with a hammer and shred the cut ends of the branches.

After the ends are prepared, submerge the bundle of branches overnight in a deep pail or tub of water, or wrap them in a damp cloth and put them in a plastic bag for a few days. This moistening and soaking loosens the bud scales and helps them to readily fall away as the flowers expand.

After moistening operation is completed, stand the branches in a pail of water in a place where you can control the temperature. Sixty to 70 degrees is best for the developing flowers. Although the branches will force at higher temperatures, the color, size, and keeping quality of the blooms will be reduced. For this reason, it is also best to keep the branches out of direct sun.

Most branches will be well on their way to full bloom in two weeks or sooner. They will stay attractive for about one week. So, if you cut a few branches each week, you can have a succession of fresh flowers the rest of the winter.

Some of the most popular shrubs to force are forsythia and flowering quince. Other good plants for forcing are flowering crab, flowering almond and spiraea, especially the double flowered spiraea. Magnolia forces easily, too.

Although white flowering dogwood can be forced, it opens slowly and bracts never develop as fully as outside. Lilac, because it is a complex compound flower, is also a challenge to force.

Finally, says Fizzell, don't overlook trees when collecting branches for forcing. Red maple has an attractive but seldom noticed flower. Oak branches produce very interesting tiny leaves that change color as they unfold. And don't forget the pussy willows.

Spring is time to do caulking

Don't wait until fall to seal cracks with caulk. Keep the cool air inside the home and repair winter damage by sealing cracks and crevices now.

Warm, dry weather is the best time to seal a home with caulk. Caulking also helps keep bugs, rain and dirt outside.

Simple, economical sealing and caulking at the first signs of damage can help head off extensive, expensive repair jobs.

Here is a list of 10 potential trouble spots provided by the Elmer's people, who make a series of caulks and sealants for different household jobs.

--Shingles or nails on the roof that may have worked loose.

--Cracks in chimney masonry.

--Loose flashing on chimneys and other roof joints.

--Leaky gutter and downspout seams.

--Caulking around windows, doors and attic ventilation outlets.

--Glazing compound around window panes.

Loose nails or other damage in siding.

--Spaces around foundation flashing and outside faucets.

--Cracks in foundation, patios and porches, steps, walkways and driveways.

--Spaces under wooden porch columns where water can collect and cause rot.

Roof inspections and repairs require caution; always be sure any slatted roof-walking devices are secure before putting full weight on them.

Use good, general all purpose indoor-outdoor caulk for sealing wood, aluminum, cement, brick, plaster and stucco. Products are available in brown, woodtone, redwood, gray and clear, or choose white and paint it to match the surface 30 minutes after application.

Home sweet home?

"Home sweet home" may not be so sweet after all. According to National Wildlife magazine, studies have found that the air inside homes may be more dangerous to human health than the air outside. In fact, the number of people claiming to be victims of "building sickness" has tripled in this country since the early 1970's. Some of the indoor pollutants include formaldehyde, radon and tobacco smoke.

Hardwood floors stand out in durability and beauty

Since ancient times, wood has provided fuel, tools, food and shelter. It has also provided hardwood floors, that in some cases have lasted for literally hundreds of years.

Other floor coverings can't compete with the durability, beauty and character of wood but, if you want them to retain their sensational sheen, it's important to care for them properly.

Here are some basic care and cleaning tips to make floor care easier.

There are a multitude of finishes available for hardwood floors today. Two popular finishes are a factory prefinished baked-in stain and wax finish, and an ultra-violet cured polyurethane finish. Wax finishes should be swept or vacuumed regularly to remove surface dust before the soil gets "walked into" the finish.

To keep the wood grains glowing, it's best to re wax floors only once or twice a year, depending on traffic. Between waxings, buffing with a heavy weight circular buffer will enliven the luster.

Polyurethane finishes require no waxing. To maintain, simply sweep or vacuum up loose dirt.

Cleaning can be accomplished with a light application of a cleaner made for use of polyurethane or wax finished floors.

A clear liquid paste and cleaner is recommended for all light color wood floors with a wax finish, and a liquid paste wax and cleaner that contains cleaning agents and dark stain pigments is recommended for all dark shades of wood floors with a wax finish.

For instance, if a floor abuts exterior doors, put outside door mats at the entrances to keep dirt and moisture from being tracked in.

Inside, an area rug to further prevent dirt and moisture from being tracked onto the hardwood floor is helpful.

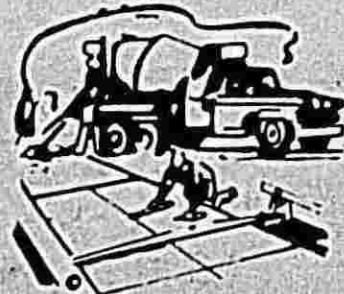

Never damp mop a wood floor or apply a water base wax, as the water can dull the finish.

New stain-resistant carpets make spot cleaning easier

Homeowners purchasing new stain-resistant carpets can expect their floor coverings to keep its original beauty for years, providing they give it frequent vacuuming, remove spills promptly and chemically clean the carpet regularly, according to experts at RACINE Industries, Inc., manufacturers of the dry extraction carpet cleaning system called Host.

"The new fiber treatments offer ease of maintenance," notes Shannon Rensch, national sales manager of consumer products for the company.

"The fibers do not buy consumers freedom from caring for their carpets, but they make it easier for homeowners to remove all spots and spills."

It is now possible to get out acid-based spills that previously would have caused a permanent stain, according to Rensch. Spills from products such as wines, paints, children's fruit drinks and shoe polish, if addressed promptly, no longer cause an unsightly carpet.

"Since these products are now removable and most carpets using the treated fibers are made so well, homeowners can keep their carpet looking great for years," Rensch said. "Barring neglect, there should be no reason for the carpet to 'ugly out' from an accumulation of spots and stains."

When cleaning becomes necessary, choose the cleaning method carefully. All fiber manufacturers, for example, note in their guarantees that using water in excess of 130 degrees can erode the effectiveness of the anti-stain treatments. Detergent residue left on the fiber treatments also can create problems, such as fast resoiling.

Controlling the amount of moisture when cleaning is the key to keeping carpet looking good throughout its entire life, notes Rensch.

She offers the following cleaning tips to carpet owners:

-Avoid excess water. Flushing spills with water dilutes and spreads them, and much of the moisture is irretrievable; the spill, now wider, can wick back up to the tips of the fibers, creating a larger spot.

If spills "magically disappear," they've probably been trapped in the backing, where they may create odors.

-Blot and blot again. With a dry white towel, blot wet spills immediately. Cover the spill with an absorbent dry cleaner such as Host, working the cleaner through the carpet with a brush or your fingers.

Vacuum away the cleaner after it is dry (spills are absorbed into the cleaner's sponge-like particles) or place a layer of paper towels on the spill and weight them down overnight.

-Clean soiled areas only. Concentrate "chemical" cleaning exclusively on areas where carpet is soiled, and keep the balance of carpet looking good by vacuuming regularly.

Dry cleaning is the most practical method for minimizing cleaning efforts, since cleaned areas can be blended into surrounding clean carpet.

Indoor pollution

Want to fight indoor air pollution? According to National Wildlife magazine, thousands of people may be poisoned in their homes each year by toxic substances such as carbon monoxide and nitrogen oxide. Luckily, houseplants, especially spider plants, are excellent air cleaners.

Common-sense steps to cutting household energy costs

by GARY S. MEYERS

Most homeowners want to save as much money as possible on the cost of energy. But realize that spending hundreds—or thousands—of dollars on fancy energy-saving equipment such as super-efficient furnaces isn't the only way to do it.

You can save a lot of money by making small changes, and some of the most important improvements cost little or nothing, according to the Illinois Energy Audits Assn., based in Arlington Heights. Substantial energy savings can be pocketed through simple lifestyle adjustments around the house.

For example, make sure children close the door when they go out to play. Encourage family members to take quicker hot showers and to switch off lights and appliances when they're not in use. Learn to wear a light sweater around the house.

"Homeowners who want to save on winter heating bills also can button up their living quarters with low-cost energy-saving improvements," said home inspector J.S. James, president of American Building Inspection Service in Chicago.

"The first thing to remember before you begin any energy-conservation project is that heat always takes the path of least resistance, flowing toward the coldest spot in the house," James said.

With this in mind, look to one of the biggest energy gobblers—windows. Experts say even an expensive double-glazed window loses 10 times more heat than the average wall.

To cut loss from windows, make sure shades and drapes are closed when the sun is down. Seal all gaps around window and door frames with Mortite or another sealing putty. The job can be done for about $20, James said.

"Installing plastic over windows may not be aesthetically appealing, but it does cut air leaks," he added.

A more decorative alternative is to purchase or make window shades composed of two layers of quilted material and one layer of Mylar. This low-cost window insulation system can cut heat loss up to 80 percent, energy experts say.

Here's a checklist of some other inexpensive home energy saving projects:

—Seal off rooms such as attics, and spare bedrooms that are seldom used, and close some heating vents.

—If you have a fireplace, you have a potential heat loss. Keep the damper closed when the fireplace is not in use. When it's operating, a normal fireplace will suck warm air into the fire and up the chimney.

The installation of glass fireplace doors will keep the warm air in the room.

—Instead of buying an expensive, high-efficiency hot water heater, consider purchasing some long underwear for your old unit. Most hardware stores sell and inexpensive ($15) insulating thermal blanket made to fit over the water heater and cut the loss, said James.

—Check to see that heat ducts and hot water pipes are insulated, particularly if they run through the attic or garage, where they are exposed to cold air.

—Install electric outlet and switch sealers to close off energy leaks from outside walls.

—Weatherstripping. A 1-3/2 inch gap around a door is equal to a hole the size of a boxer's fist. If weatherstripping is cracked or has come loose, replace or repair it. Caulk around windows and doors. Also caulk around outdoor faucets.

—Clean or replace furnace air filters, and check to see if the heat exchanger needs cleaning. Are there any leaks? Do all the valves operate correctly? The more efficiently your furnace works, the less fuel it will require.

—If your house has radiators, bleed them of collected air. If you've lost your key, you can buy one at the local hardware store. Be sure you put a bowl under the valve to collect the water. Then turn the valve until a few drops of water come out. Close it quickly once the job is done.

A Home Equity Line of Credit puts your home equity to work.

First National Bank of Waukegan is pleased to offer an exciting Home Equity Line of Credit which places you firmly in control of future credit needs.

A Home Equity Credit Line is secured by the equity in your house. Once approved for a credit line of $5000 or more, you may write yourself a loan for any purpose, at any time and for any amount from $500 up to your preapproved limit! Use your credit line for home improvements, vacation travel, investments, education or for any purpose you like. Under the recent Tax Reform Act much of the interest may even be tax deductible.

INTEREST BASED ON LINE*

The size of your credit line originally established — not the credit used — determines your interest rate basis. The rate of interest is highly competitive and linked to an indexed base rate* according to the size of the credit line. You may apply for up to 70% of the appraised value of your home less the mortgage balance. No interest is charged until you use your line of credit. And then you need only pay the interest as the principal isn't due for five years. Of course you may pay the principal whenever you like.

HOME EQUITY LINE ADVANTAGES:

In addition to limiting your interest rate liability, there is no fee charged when applying for First National Bank of Waukegan's Home Equity Line of Credit. Normal appraisal and title charges are applicable.

Apply today for First National Bank of Waukegan's Home Equity Line of Credit. Remember, there is no charge to apply and we'll process your application in a few days so you can put your Home Equity to work...for you!

*The base rate is the rate listed in the Money Rates Section of THE WALL STREET JOURNAL on the last business day of each month.

'Inlaid' can be misleading with sheet vinyl floors

If you paid full price for a diamond ring and later found out the stone was imitation, you'd be pretty upset. So, too, you'd be bothered if you paid a premium for an inlaid-vinyl floor and later learned it wasn't really inlaid.

It could happen. Recent developments in the flooring field have blurred the once-clear distinction between inlaid-vinyl floors and others, called "rotovinyls," whose patterns are printed on. These are the sheet floors, the kind that come in wide rolls, not tiles, which are individual, small squares.)

There's a good reason why inlaid-vinyl floors are more luxurious looking, more durable and usually cost more than other vinyl floors. They're made by the painstaking "inlaid color" process, in which the pattern is built up gradually as colored vinyl granules are deposited in careful stages onto the floor's backing.

When the pattern has been fully formed, the vinyl granules are fused together permanently by intense heat and pressure (much the way nature creates materials). Lastly, a clear, hard no-wax surface is applied. The result: pattern and colors that go the whole way through the body of the floor.

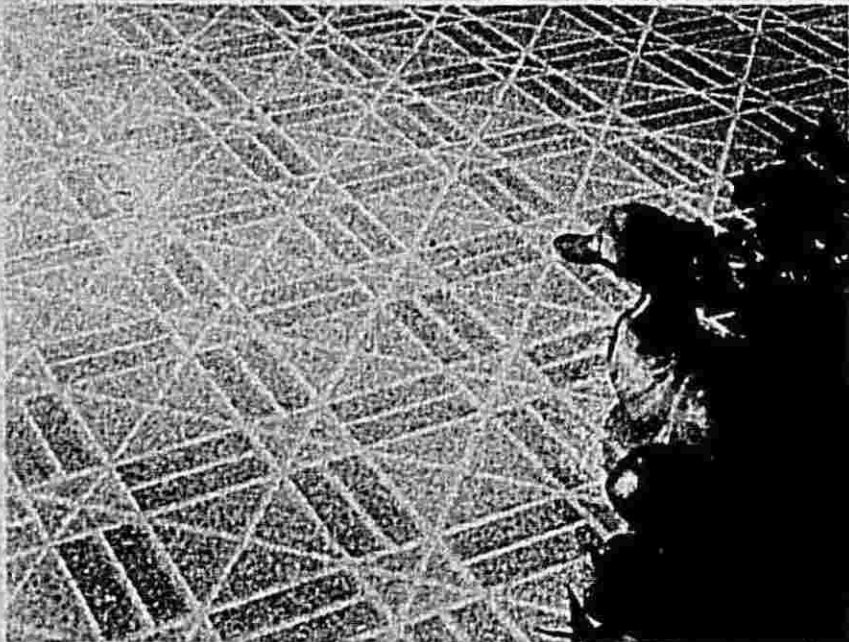

Rotovinyl floors, on the other hand, have the pattern merely printed onto the backing, which is then covered with a no-wax protection. Without the no-wax protection, you could literally "walk the pattern off."

What's causing the confusion these days is that now companies are making modified rotovinyl floors that contain "chips" or "crystals." After the pattern is printed on the backing, chips or crystals are sprinkled on it before the no-wax surface is added. These modified rotovinyl floors are sometimes termed "inlaid."

That's misleading, according to Armstrong, which makes all three types of floors. Rotovinyl and modified rotovinyl floors are fine floors for the money, the company says. But, it contends, they're not inlaid, not even the ones containing chips or crystals.

As an aid to consumers, Armstrong has supplied flooring stores around the country with a large display.

The real thing

Inlaid-vinyl floors like this one are among the finest available. They are made by painstaking "inlaid color" process, which builds up pattern from innumerable colored vinyl granules. Other vinyl floors have patterns merely printed on.

'Little Red, Friends' for kids at heart

by TOM WITOM

In "Little Red and Her Friends," Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre successfully recasts the Little Red Riding Hood tale into a musical fantasy.

The show is designed to appeal to the preschool and early primary grade school set, but its wit and charm is not lost on youthful-minded adults.

It's studded with talented performers from Dawn Hopper as Little Red to Alene Robertson, a daffy delight in her dual role as mother and grandma.

But the real showstopper is Richard Roeder as the hungry wolf. When he croons and struts, telling the world he's b-a-d, real bad, even the youngest pick up on the Michael Jackson parody.

And Don Forston as Deputy Bear of the Picilli Woods animal patrol brings down the house with his rock-and-roll number, "Insect Blues." Rounding out the cast are Jeanne Croft as Fleece, Little Red's fidgety sheep, and Andrew Lupp as Sir Reginald Rabbit. Kevin Stites directs the orchestra with verve.

The play encourages audience involvement, with little voices contributing animal sounds as Red travels through the woods. At the end of most performances there's a short question-and-answer period (i.e., many asked the wolf why he was always so hungry and mean).

Performances of "Little Red and Her Friends," each a little more than an hour, are weekdays at 10 a.m., Saturdays at 11 a.m. and school holidays at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. through March 12.

Kirk Players 'Light Up Sky' in Moss Hart production

The Kirk Players' third show of the season, Moss Hart's witty and amusing comedy "Light Up The Sky," will be presented Friday and Saturday, March 4 and 5, on the Mundelein High School stage. The curtain will be at 8 p.m.

Hart, one of the timeless giants in American theatrical history, has written a very interesting comedy about a group of glamorous, clever, beautiful and talented show people who are about to open a new play "on the road" in Boston.

Their experience, their egos (which are enormous) and their relationships with each other are at a high note in the first act as they gather in the star's (Paula Willems of Wildwood) suite at the Ritz Carlton and prepare to go to the opening.

The second act, after the opening performance, is another story and the third is yet another side of the glitzy life of theatre people in the late '40's.

Part of the gathering is a first-time producer (John Lynn of Mundelein) who has an uncanny sense for investing money, part of which he makes on ice shows featuring his wife (Kathy Russ of Mundelein).

Also on hand to toast the opening are the star's mother (Carol Marie Fischesser of Mundelein); the over-dramatic director (Mike McGreevy of Mundelein); the author of the star's previous two successes (Floyd Baker of Vernon Hills) and the unknown truck driver-author of the current show (Russ Slade of Mundelein).

Tickets will be available at the door, from members of the Kirk Players.

THIS WEEK'S

★ ★ HOROSCOPE ★ ★

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Keep your wits about you.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) There may be some newcomers in your life who are trying to deceive you, so be ready for them. Take precautions when considering financial matters.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Your love life has gone a bit sour as of late, but be ready for it to spruce up as we head into spring. Don't let your stubborn nature hold you back now.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) If you can't make up your mind about those pressing issues hanging over your head, discuss them with someone with an uncompromised point of view.

Cancer (June 21-Jul 20) Hold your ground when debating the importance of a financial affair. Your mate will come to see your righteousness in the very near future.

Leo (Jul 21-Aug. 22) Let loose now, Leo, and make sure you take your dearest friends along for the ride. If you have time between the fun, go on a deserved shopping spree.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You won't get the answers to those pressing problems by keeping your head in the clouds. Come down to earth where you can get the advice you really need.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct 22) Don't let anyone sway you from your most precious ambition now; things will be coming to a boil soon. If things get tough at home, make sure you talk it out.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Let the little things in life roll off your back more. This will take the stress off you a bit. Family and money matters are good, as are romantic possibilities.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Shoot straight for the heart on this big project, and you could come up a winner! That dark cloud hanging around will be vanishing soon.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If someone needs your help, be sure you're there for them. A Sagittarius could figure prominently in a financial matter. Your stars are clearing now.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) If you get involved with a shady character, take it as an object lesson and move on: immediately! You should distance yourself from the crowd.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Lay low for a while, Pisces, and get your head together. After some deep thought, you will be able to tackle anything thrown in your direction.

If you were born this week, you should have a smooth life; you are gifted with wisdom and diplomacy. Always go after things with your heart and soul. Your integrity will bring you your just desserts, and these should be many.

Urban Gateways performs for Long Grove students

Urban Gateways: The Center for Arts in Education, presented The Armstrong Sisters' "Seasonal Celebration" at Kildeer School in Long Grove on March 2.

The Armstrong Sisters, Becky and Jenny, grew up in a musical family. Their parents, George and Gerry Armstrong, have often been referred to as "the mom and pop" of Chicago folk music. The sisters grew up with the great American folk music revival of the 1960s and performed regularly with their parents, appearing with them on several recordings.

In "Seasonal Celebration," the Armstrong Sisters explore the roots and traditions of folk holiday through song and story. Each season, a different program complements a school's holiday projects.

Urban Gateways is the most comprehensive organization of its kind in the country and has been called the "Metropolitan Museum of Arts in Education" by the National Endowment for the Arts.

The organization was recently recognized with a Governor's Award for the Arts by the Illinois Arts Council.

Urban Gateways sponsors performances and workshops of dance, music, drama and visual arts in more than 750 schools throughout the Chicago metropolitan area each year to enhance learning and student motivation.

Says Urban Gateways Executive Director Ronne Hartfield, "More than 750,000 students, teachers and parents see Urban Gateways-sponsored performances each year. The best part is that, not only are students learning more as a result of the influence of the arts, but Urban Gateways is creating future patrons of the arts. These youngsters will someday be the adults who support our symphonies, ballet companies, art museums and other arts organizations."

Hartfield commented that Urban Gateways, the state's largest employer of varied artists, does more than simply send an artist to a school to perform.

"School staff receive a comprehensive package of educational materials for each performance. Teachers share the information with students before the performance to insure maximum intellectual benefit, understanding and enjoyment," she said.

She added that artists' performances are at a level appropriate to the ages of students who will view/participate in them.

The organization is currently operating Entenmann's, the bakers, to help some schools get free or significantly-discounted performances through the collecting of proofs-of-purchase from Entenmann's bakery products through May 20. To get a school's "Entenmann's Collect for the School Starter Kit," call or write to: "Entenmann's Collect for the Arts," 211 E. Ontario, Suite 1300, Chicago, Ill. 60611, (312) 280-7049.

"Urban Gateways is a lot more than single in-school performances," Hartfield said. "For instance, we sponsor out-of-school trips to major arts institutions in Chicago, such as to the Auditorium Theatre and the new Regal Theatre for matinee performances by nationally-known artists."

"We also provide artists-in-residence at the schools; artists of a particular discipline who stay at a school for several weeks to help students grow and develop in a particular area, whether it be visual art, music or something else," Hartfield said.

Urban Gateways is a nonprofit organization supported by foundations, corporations, government agencies and individuals. For more information about Urban Gateways call (312) 992-0440.

Students can claim exemption

College students and other young people who file Illinois income tax returns are getting a break from the state. They can claim a personal exemption on their own state tax return, even if they are listed as a dependent on their parents' return.

Illinois has always allowed both the parents and child who files an individual return to each claim the child's $1,000 personal exemption. This has the effect of giving the child an extra exemption.

"This was also true on federal returns before this year, but since federal tax reform, if a child can be claimed as a dependent on someone else's return, the child does not get a personal exemption on his or her own federal return," said Roger Sweet, director of the Illinois Dept. of Revenue.

League of Women Voters oppose county executive

The League of Women Voters of Lake County is opposing the March 15 referendum seeking to establish the county executive form of government in Lake County.

After a seven month study, the League's Task Force on the Structure of County Government concluded that serious flaws in the Illinois County Executive Act should be corrected before Lake County considers adopting the County Executive form of government. After reviewing the research of the Task Force, the League membership concurred with the Task Force's findings and authorized the Lake County League's opposition to the referendum.

The Lake County League is particularly concerned about a provision in the Illinois County Executive Act that gives the County Executive an extraordinary combination of administrative and legislative powers. This provision permits the Executive, the County's chief administrative officer, to preside over meetings of the County Board, the County's legislative branch, and to cast the deciding vote when votes of the county board members are tied.

While studying the county executive form of government, the League Task Force learned that this provision is at variance with the powers given to county executives in other states. Persons knowledgeable in the county executive form of government who were interviewed by the League were surprised to learn about this provision in Illinois law, and questioned its wisdom. The Lake County League recommended that this provision be deleted from the Illinois County Executive Act before Lake County considers adopting this form of government.

The League is also recommending several other amendments to the County Executive Act. These are detailed in the League's concurrence statement and in the Task Force reports which are available at many Lake County Libraries or by calling the League at (312)872-8475.

Churchill starts working on Chrysler problems

State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) is harshly criticizing the handling of the Kenosha Chrysler assembly plant layoffs and calling for stepped-up meetings with state employment agencies to develop options for those who have been displaced. "The imminent shutdown has not been easy for anyone," said Churchill, "and time is not healing any wounds. But, there are no immediate solutions, which is why I am meeting with employment professionals and studying all our alternatives in making it a less painful transition. The lawmaker is fueled by the premature Feb. 24 layoff of 600 workers. "I can't believe that Chrysler is willing to add insult to injury," he said. "The corporation is undermining the entire effect this condition has had on our area. Apologies just don't cut it. I'm working to make sure this won't continue to be their standard way of dismissing workers."

Churchill has previously blasted Chrysler for not being forthcoming in its decisions or intent to let workers go. It is estimated, he said, that between 500-2,500 Illinoisians will be affected.

Churchill said it was previously thought that 90 percent of the workers would be laid off July 1. However, he said he suspects a gradual phase out without notification is looming in light of recent events.

"Lee Iacocca may have written a best-selling book about job management," he said, "but, it seems to me he may want to start checking out a few others from the library—those which deal with reality. There are some hard facts he needs to learn, such as the difficulty of an American auto worker who walks into his home and tells his wife and kids he won't be going to work the next day."

Unemployment compensation is available to displaced workers for 26 weeks, according to Churchill. A single worker is eligible to receive up to 49 percent of his or her prior wage. A worker with a dependent spouse may receive up to 57 percent, and, if children are involved, 64 percent of the prior wage may be compensated.

Churchill added that he is also investigating the possibilities of receiving longer term benefits through the Federal Trade Adjustment Act. Chrysler or the United Auto Workers Assn. would have to apply for the funds, and prove that the Kenosha plant was forced to close due to foreign competition.

Employees of the Kenosha auto plant are able to use resources offered by the Dept. of Employee Security (DES) to explore job opportunities, said Churchill.

In a new effort to counter the layoffs at the plant, Churchill met with the director of DES to discover what can be done currently to aid the workers.

DES is working to gather the vital statistics of the workers who have already been displaced, and those whose jobs are now in jeopardy, according to Churchill. The workers can enter DES's local offices and use their job service terminals and complete applications.

"It is extremely important that the workers use whatever venues are available to them," warned Churchill. "They need to enter the job service bank. It might hook them up with reputable companies like Diamond-Star Motors, as well as their suppliers and contractors."

DES local office addresses are as follows: 221 North Genesee St., Waukegan, Ill. 60085, (312)662-6913, (312)336-0415 and 425 Clay St., Woodstock, Ill. 60098, (815)338-2372 or (815)338-7040.

Churchill said there is a possibility that the state agency will coordinate with the local union offices in Kenosha to centralize the job service system. Until then, however, it is advisable to visit separate DES local offices.

Pancake breakfast

The North Chicago Lions Club will host its spring pancake breakfast on Sunday, March 27.

Slams Chrysler

State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) has criticized the handling of the Chrysler layoffs in Kenosha and wants to develop some options for those who have been displaced. According to Churchill there will be as many as 500-2,500 Illinoisians affected.

Water distribution system

Heavy lines indicate routing of watermain lines that will bring Lake Michigan water inland in system due to go on line in 1991. Communities due to receive lake water belong to Central Lake County Joint Action

Water Agency. Voters in member communities will vote on method financing in March 15 primary. Agency officials are recommending a yes vote on financing combining general obligation bonds and revenue bonds.

Leafblad scores foes on zoning headaches

Larry Leafblad, candidate for a Republican nomination from County Board Dist. 4 in the March 15 primary, charged that two Dist. 4 incumbents are "out of touch with reality" in operations of the county's embattled Building and Zoning Dept.

Leafblad directed a broadsides at County Board Chairman Jim Fields of Antioch and Dist. 4 Rep. Fred Popp.

"What Fields and Popp are saying about the building department indicates that they don't know what's going on. They are out of touch with reality."

Leafblad and his running mate, Suzi Schmidt, have called for reorganization of the building department headed by County Building Officer Robert Streicher as one of their major campaign planks.

"With conditions the way they are in Dist. 4 of Antioch, Lake Villa, Grant and Avon Twp., we can't ignore the complaints of our citizens. We think Popp and Fields have ignored the shortcomings and outright incompetency in the building department," Leafblad declared flatly.

Leafblad, a resident of Highland Lake, spoke out after he and Fields, who also is supervisor of Antioch Twp., appeared on a radio talk show discussing building and zoning violations in unincorporated parts of the county.

A phone caller asked the two participants to rate Streicher's department on a scale of one to 10, with 10 being the highest.

"Fields gave the department a 10. That's ridiculous. I gave the department a zero," Leafblad asserted.

Complaints about building department operations have centered in Dist. 4. A citizens organization has been formed to bring about corrections. The organization has representation in nine townships, out of 16.

Leafblad said that both Fields and Popp have had ample opportunity to bring about a redirection of the building department. "The facts are that they haven't done anything. They don't deserve to be re-elected."

Village trustees may consider lake management agreement

The Grayslake Community Park Dist. and village may be sharing the cost of a study about Gray's Lake.

Action on the agreement with the Lake County Environmental Health Dept. could come as early as the March 7 village board meeting and the March 9 park board meeting.

Grayslake Community Park Dist. Dir. Dick Broadhurst said the cost of the study would be $4,000.

The park board, at its last meeting, voted 4-1 to approve the monitoring pending approval from the village board.

Steve Moylan, director of the health department's Lakes Management, said the study would take a year to complete. He said the contract proposal has been forwarded to the village.

"Obviously the lake is the focal point of the community. It should provide recreational resource to the community and can be a sense of community pride," Moylan said.

Moylan, who made a presentation before both boards last month, said the new service already has a contract to work with Lake Villa.

The Lakes Management Unit has set up various forums for people to attend and learn about their services. The next one will be at Libertyville Twp. Hall on March 8.

In other park district news, Vice President Ken Grosvenor reported that park officials have visited the new Round Lake Area Park Dist. building.

Grosvenor reported that the park district has received $725 from the village for their portion of the weed kill.

The board has approved no more than $1,500 for an impact study of Picket Fence Farms development by Lane Kendig Inc.

RAYNAUD'S DISEASE

In Raynaud's disease, named for the French physician who first discovered it, blood vessels become progressively narrower, interfering with circulation, and eventually leading to serious tissue changes.

In the beginning, there is slight swelling, a tingling feeling, and the feet may perspire more than usual. The skin may begin to change color. As the disease progresses, the skin at the tips of the toes may begin to break down.

When you first notice such symptoms, it's important to schedule a podiatric examination as soon as possible. Non-surgical treatment is often effective. However, in serious cases, surgery may be required to restore circulation and relieve pain.

Heavy damage done

A structural fire that occurred Sunday February, 28 at 305 East Park, was responsible for more than $100,000 in damages. The fire required the assistance of ten area fire departments including Grayslake, Lake Zurich, Wauconda and Countryside. The building housed businesses, but there was no one there at the time of the fire. Photo by Steve Peterson.

Jury indicts McHenry man on four pollution counts

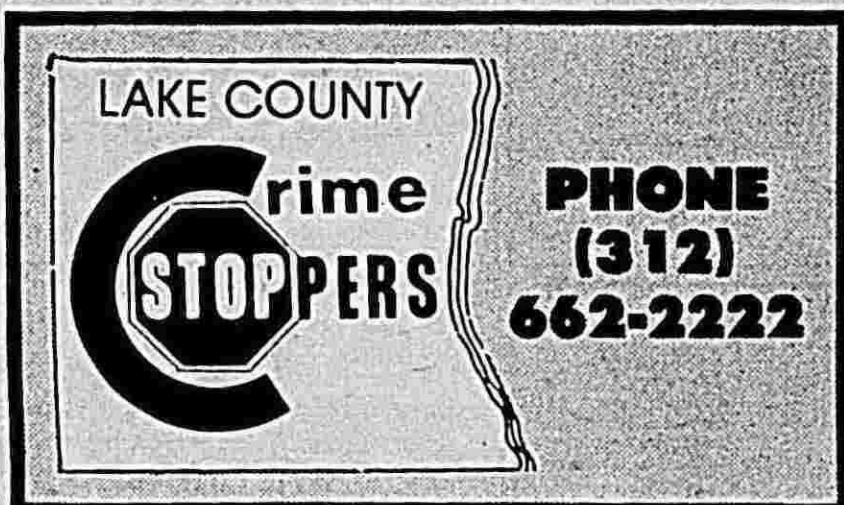

John J. Dieterle, 59, of McHenry was indicted by a McHenry County grand jury on four counts of violating a tough 1984 environmental law, the Illinois Criminal Damage to the Environment Act.

The four counts on which Dieterle was indicted are calculated criminal disposal of hazardous waste, criminal disposal of hazardous waste, reckless disposal of hazardous waste, and discharging a contaminant into the waters of the state without a permit.

The indictments result from a Dec. 24, 1987, incident at a gasoline service station on Rte. 120 in unincorporated McHenry County.

Dieterle allegedly emptied gas from an underground tank by pumping it into a sink on the property. The sink was connected with a septic tank on the same property.

"The manager of the service station, who resided in a house behind the station, was awakened that afternoon by gas fumes coming from the basement," Illinois Attorney Gen. Neil Hartigan said. "On the way to the basement, he turned up the furnace, and the house exploded."

Crime Stoppers and the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. are seeking information on the whereabouts of James B. Pilat. He is wanted on a warrant for felony theft. Bond has been set at $250,000.

Pilat is described as a white male, 53 years of age, 5-4 in height, 150 pounds with gray hair and hazel eyes. His last known address was 7425 Boston, Wonder Lake. Pilat also impersonates a priest.

Anyone having information about this crime or any other felony crime or felony fugitive, contact Crime Stoppers at (312) 662-2222.

Crime Stoppers and the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. are seeking information on a series of burglaries which have occurred during the past month.

The robberies occurred at The Corner Store, Rte. 41 and Wadsworth Rd., at approximately 3 a.m. Jan. 25; Ma & Pa's Grocery Store, Greenbay and Yorkhouse Rds., at approximately 12:30 a.m. Feb. 8; and the J & L Service Station, Lewis and Yorkhouse Rds., the early morning hours of Feb. 6.

Two join board

Two people were named to College of Lake County Foundation Board of Directors during its February meeting. Attorney Cynthia Alexander is Mundelein resident and has private law practice in Waukegan. Walter Cherry is founder and chairman of Cherry Electrical Products Corporation in Waukegan and resides in Winnetka. The Foundation is non-profit organization that provides support for projects that would otherwise be outside college's budget.

Presidential candidates ready to descend here

THE ILLINOIS PRIMARY is only a week and a half away. Here in Lake County, much attention has been given to County Board races in Dist. 4 and 6, and to referenda on the water agency and county executive.

But after Tuesday, the presidential candidates will descend upon us.

In the Republican primary, Bob Dole, George Bush and Pat Robertson will duke it out. The support of the Republican establishment in this county is divided between Bush and Dole. Lake County Republican Central Committee Chairman Bob Neal is leading the charge for Bush, while State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) is heading up Dole's campaign.

Robertson will depend on the minions of his "invisible army" to give him a good showing - and he could do very about his record.

On the other hand, I still can't forget Dole's performance in 1976 when he debated Walter Mondale in his campaign for vice-president. Dole stated that Democrats start wars that Republicans end. That was the cheapest of cheap shots.

While it is true, that in this century, every major war has begun under a Democratic administration, it is a matter of coincidence. Would a responsible Republican President have kept us out of World Wars I or II? They couldn't have.

On the Democratic side, Paul Simon is no longer anything more than a favorite son candidate. The battle will be fought amongst Michael Dukakis, Bob Gephardt, and, I think, Albert Gore. I am glad to see Dukakis doing so well. Three years ago, I read about some of his innovative approaches to governing Massachusetts and was impressed. He has put together a sound economy in a rust-belt state and has done a lot to reform its welfare system.

Gephardt's populist theme of bashing the Koreans plays well and should garner him a lot of support among those people who Chrysler has helped put out of work here. But Korea-bashing isn't much of a policy or theme upon which to govern the country.

Gore, an old country boy from Tennessee, is really one of the smoothest politicians in the bunch. His manner is patrician and aloof, but he has managed to do very well in a laid-back state. His appeal could be a big surprise in the Illinois primary.

Of course, by the time the candidates arrive here, there could be a few more winnowed out, though it seems likely that Super Tuesday (the March 8 primary to be held in almost all the southern states) will add contenders rather than winnowing them out.

Jaycee seminar

The Antioch Jaycees are holding a Leadership Dynamics Seminar which will be free to the public. The seminar will be held March 10 at 7 p.m. at the Antioch Public Library on Main St. Chuck Spillner will lead the seminar. For more information call Mark Lavellee at (414) 862-2569.

Just Politics

By Charles Johnston

well in Lake County. There are a huge number of transplanted southerners here. I'm one of them, though I'm less fond of that old-time fundamentalist religion than most of the Bible Belt transplants.

Look around, though. There are fundamentalist churches in almost every community, with many located in the western and northern stretches of the county. These people usually don't vote in numbers that amount to anything, though. They may be excited about Pat Robertson, but a key question is how many are registered?

As for Bush and Dole, it appears the county is pretty well divided. I do not like the way Bush distorted Dole's record while campaigning in New Hampshire and I don't see why press pundits got all excited when Dole snapped that Bush should "quit lying"

Lakeland students complete degree requirements at ISU.

Bears top CLC

The group of former Chicago Bears and ex-NFL stars bested the College of Lake County's All-Star team 48-39 in a celebrity game at CLC Saturday.

CLC officials estimated about 490 people turned out for the event, a fundraiser for the college's women's softball team. The softball players played the NFL stars in a light-hearted five-minute affair before the main event.

Former Bear quarterback Bobby Douglas seemed to take the game the most seriously of the ex-players, scoring 14 points. Angelo Kyle, CLC's women's basketball coach, scored 20 points to keep CLC in the game.

NFL players included Marty Amsler, who played for the Bears in 1968-79 and the Bengals and Packers as well; Charlie Brown, who played for the Bears and Bills and was an all-American at Syracuse; Ronnie Bull, Bears player from 1962-70 and Eagles in 1971; Allan Ellis, Bears 1973-80 and Chargers, 1981-82; Curtis Gentry, Bears 1966-68 and now CLC's athletic director; Major Hazelton, Bears and Saints; Ike Hill, Bears, Bills and Dolphins; Gayle Sayers, Bears 1965-70 and Hall-of-Famer; Joe Washington, Falcons, 1973-74 and Joe Washington, Falcons 1973-74.

Local players on the Bears team included Leslie Frazier, a Vernon Hills resident who is now coaching at Trinity College and Tom Wittum, assistant football and baseball coach at Grayslake High. Wittum, a Round Lake High product, played at Northern Illinois University and was a punter for the San Francisco 49ers in the 1970s.

Dr. Daniel LaVista headed CLC's lineup. Robert Brasile, Steve Dulmes, Henry George, Darrell Gilbert, Kevin Harrison, Marvin Johnson, Terry Larson, Martin Ley, Dan Petrosko, Ted Poulos, Vice President Charlie Schultz and Vince Zalapi were other team members.

College notes

A Warren Twp. High School and a Lake Zurich High School graduate have teamed their efforts for seven wins in the heavyweight class for Augustana's wrestling team.

Frank Bojniwicz, a Warren product, is 3-6-1 while Chris Mootrey from Lake Zurich is 4-10-1. The records are as Augustana prepares for the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin meet. Augustana has captured the last six CCIW championships and 20 of the last 25. Bojniwicz, a junior, won the title at 190 pounds at the conference meet in 1986.

Bowling mayor

The Lake County women's bowling league tournament will feature a performance by Mundelein's mayor. Mundelein Mayor Colin McRae will make his annual appearance at the tournament March 5. There have been 206 teams with doubles and singles. For more information, contact Mary Gleason, secretary, at (312) 362-3198. The tournament will be held at Mundelein Lanes, 900 Lake St. in Mundelein.

The winning shot

College of Lake County's Don Gunther overcomes defense of three Elgin players en route to winning basket. Gunther's shot came with two seconds left and enabled CLC to beat Elgin 96-94. Gunther, an Antioch product, scored 19 points in win. CLC advances to regional tournament at Triton March 5. CLC plays Illinois Valley at 6 p.m. — Photo by Steve Peterson.

Gunther's key shot gives CLC title

It was a shot Don Gunther will remember for a long time.

With the game tied 94-94 and just two seconds left, the College of Lake County forward swished home a five-footer that gave CLC a 96-94 win and its own NJCAA Division II championship.

"I pulled up just in time," Gunther, an Antioch product, said.

Gunther's 19 points was not the high for CLC, but the Antioch connection - Matt Weber's passes set up several key Lancer field goals - made the difference.

CLC advances to play powerful Illinois Valley at the Triton regional tournament at 6 p.m. March 6 in River Grove. Should CLC, now 22-10, continue its magic, the Lancers would qualify for the national junior college tournament.

But veteran CLC Coach Bruce Smith knows that Illinois Valley will not be an easy hurdle to leap over. "Illinois Valley has been playing well since Christmas," Smith said.

Both teams had to work their way to the regional tournament. While CLC was turning back fierce Elgin rallies, Illinois Valley had to outscore McHenry County College 22-9 in the last four minutes to win its game 91-74.

CLC and Elgin split their Skyway Conference battles, so Saturday's contest figured to be a close struggle.

CLC started to build its lead in the latter stages of the first half. After a 26-26 tie, the hosts outscored the Spartans 10-1 over the last nine minutes for a 37-27 halftime bulge.

Round Lake and Grant are at it again - this time for regional crown

Survival.

That's the name of the game when it comes to regional tournament time. It's also the reward for the winner of the Round Lake-Grant contest for the championship of the Antioch regional March 4.

The two teams will be playing each other for the sixth time in the last two years. The game will be a renewal of last year's regional final. Grant came in as the decided favorite in that contest, but Round Lake took the Bulldogs into double overtime before losing.

"It will be a dogfight," Grayslake Coach Greg Groth, who has spent the better part of the year trying to beat both, said.

Fans looking for an even matchup probably could not have asked for a better one for the 7:30 p.m. start. The two teams split regular season Northwest Suburban Conference game, each winning at home. And both teams, seeded No. 1 and 2 in the regional, are coming off scares in their opening round games. The two teams know each other's strategies to the point where there are no secrets.

Round Lake used solid defense down the stretch to eliminate host Antioch 64-59 while Grant watched an 11-point fourth quarter lead almost slip away in a 47-45 win over Grayslake.

The Bulldogs seemingly had the closer of the two games locked up when Tony Culotta scored two of his 16 points on an inside move with 5:58 left for a 41-30 Grant lead. But the Rams then mounted a furious comeback. Outscoring Grant 13-3, the Rams gained a tie at 45-45 when senior Pete Lupori canned two free throws with 19 seconds left.

Grant then moved the ball deliberately on offense. Dave Sparks, a senior, rose to the occasion by making two free throws with five seconds left. Sparks finished with seven points, but five of those came on six free throw tries in the final quarter.

"I like having him in there because he does not make mistakes. In a stretch of seven games in February, he had two turnovers," Grant Coach Tom Maple said.

Grayslake still had a chance to win after calling timeout with one second left. Lupori, though, missed a three-pointer.

The win gave the Bulldogs a 19-7 record heading into the final game. Afterward, Maple blasted the officiating.

"That was the first game I have coached in 22 years when the officials have refused to acknowledge the coaches in any way. They said they would not talk to us," Maple said. The calls were inconsistent, Maple said, and the officials stated that they would maintain strict bench decorum - the coaches would have to follow the no standing rule to a 't'.

"I give our kids a lot of credit for playing under adverse conditions," Maple said.

For Grayslake Coach Groth, the Tuesday loss was especially hard to swallow since the Rams had defeated the Bulldogs just three days earlier to claim a tie for second in the NWSC. The coach praised his team's efforts in the fourth-quarter comeback.

"It's something about the Grayslake spirit. We're not quitters. I really admire the kids," Groth said.

Grayslake finished the season at 15-7.

GCHS hockey notches win

One thing you can say about the Grayslake High School hockey team.

Timing is on their side.

The Rams advanced to the Northern Illinois Hockey League Division II final with a 5-3 win over Cary-Grove Tuesday. Grayslake will play the winner of Carmel-Antioch March 5 at 7 p.m.

"It was an opportune time," Grayslake Coach Scott Hannig said.

The Rams scored three goals in the first period. Shane Groth scored assisted by Mark Grosvenor. Ryan Moran scored unassisted as did Kurt Weiss.

Paul Maggio scored twice, one assisted by Larry Laycock and Moran and another by Laycock.

"It was an excellent showing. We played excellent defense," Hannig said.

The Rams were 0-20-1 on the regular season, tying Antioch.

"This season we did not have as much talent as last year because the first two lines graduated," Hannig said.

Defense saves Panthers from Antioch's scare

What does an coach do when his team's shots are not falling and the free throw shooting is mediocre?

If you're Round Lake Coach Bob Ward, it is time to call on the defense. That's exactly what the Panthers did in surviving a 64-59 win over the upset minded Antioch Sequoits Tuesday in the first round of Antioch's regional.

Antioch's Scott Frasch tied the game at 54-54 with 4:05 left. The next time the Sequoits would score a field goal was when David Wick scored with :13 remaining.

"That was it then. Our game plan at halftime was to play better defense and in the fourth quarter we did," Round Lake Coach Bob Ward said.

The win gives Round Lake 19-8 overall record and a spot against bitter rival Grant in the March 4 regional final game. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

"We missed an awful lot of shots down the stretch," Antioch Coach Don Zeman said.

The Sequoits missed seven of their last eight shots in the fourth quarter and made just three of 12 for the period.

Frank Russell led Round Lake with 19 points while Brian Richardson had 17 and Todd Collis 11. There seemed to be a hero right when the winners needed one.

The loss was especially disappointing for Antioch, who ends the year at 7-18. "We played with a lot of intensity. I was real pleased to see that," Zeman said.

Scott Gooch completed his basketball career at Antioch by scoring 18 points. Frasch had 11. Antioch held its own in rebounding against Round Lake as each team had 24.

Antioch had its home fans standing when the Sequoits jumped off to a 9-3 lead. Round Lake adjusted, though and took a 24-18 lead after one. Three pointers was the main thrust of the Round Lake offense in the first half, as the Panthers canned five.

"We did not dictate tempo in the first half and we cannot play that way,"

Ward said.

Round Lake increased its lead to eight points in the second stanza but Antioch rallied for a 15-5 run and took a 35-33 lead at halftime.

Corsairs fall in ESCC finale

Holy Cross outscored Carmel 29-13 in the second and third quarters and that effectively ended the Corsairs' hopes to claim third place in the East Suburban Catholic Conference outright.

The Corsairs did manage a furious rally in the fourth quarter to regain the lead but lost the ESCC game 51-41 in Mundelein. The loss gives Carmel an even 7-7 record in the league, 14-11 overall heading into this week's Mundelein tournament.

No Carmel player tallied in double figures, although juniors Mike King and Sean Keegan were a major part of Carmel's offense.

"The thing that did us in the most was

The Panthers gained a five-point lead in the third quarter on a three-pointer by Tim Dunn, but once again Antioch rallied and took a two-point lead into the fourth quarter.

that we did not get any kind of production from our three seniors who we need to do well for us," Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg said.

Carmel's Scott Stahoviak was not eligible for the game because of a brawl in the contest the week before at Chicago Mt. Carmel.

Carmel started out well, leading 15-8 after one. But Holy Cross took over in the second quarter, outscoring the Corsairs 10-7. Holy Cross led 37-28 after three before Carmel rallied.

Elsewhere in the ESCC, Joliet Catholic edged St. Patrick 67-61, league champ St. Joseph bombed Notre Dame 58-37 and Marist beat St. Viator 86-62.

Patriots, Bulldogs, Bears all fall

Most area basketball teams were forced into quick exits in first round regional play Tuesday.

At Deerfield, Lake Forest's offense was in high gear as the Scouts crushed Stevenson 87-52. The Scouts had to struggle to beat the Patriots by eight in the two teams' last meeting.

But Lake Forest led 17-7 after one and 43-23 at halftime.

Rob Pelinka scored 27 as did Doug Cayce.

Stevenson's Rob Anderson was injured early in the game. Cleveland Tyson, Keith Marshall and Tyrone Oliver scored 12, 11 and 10 points, respectively.

At Jacobs, Wauconda's season ended without a win as the Bulldogs fell to hot-shooting Jacobs 78-66. Chuck Cermak scored 24 points for Wauconda in the losing cause.

Craig Wojas led the Golden Eagles with more than half of his team's points with 41. Wojas was 10-for-10 from the free throw line.

The Bulldogs stayed close to the home team in the first quarter, as the Golden Eagles managed only a 17-16 lead. Jacobs gained control in the second quarter, leading 40-29 at halftime.

Lake Zurich had a similar fate, losing to Dundee-Crown 75-49. Martin Milner led the Bears, now 8-16, with 18 points. The Chargers used their muscle to gain a big advantage in rebounding.

The first quarter saw the same score as the Wauconda game as D-C led 17-16. Dundee-Crown then took charge with a 22-13 second quarter.

Nightmarish second half ends Warren's dreams

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

It was just past 10 in the morning.

As far as Warren's girls basketball team was concerned, when the buzzer for the second half sounded at the Assembly Hall at Champaign, it was the same as midnight.

Ahead of Chicago Marshall 20-15 at halftime, the Blue Devils quickly saw their first-ever appearance in the Elite Eight turn sour in a 55-38 loss Friday morning. The 22-point swing sent Warren packing with a 27-4 record.

"They came out and had those quick two baskets at the start of the third quarter. We had a five-point lead and it went down to one point in about a minute there. We had to use the timeouts to slow it down somewhat and try to get back into the tempo that we had the first half," Warren Coach Bruce Campbell said.

Warren's achilles heal was the same one that plagued the team in its four losses - rebounding. Marshall owned a 48-32 edge in rebounding. Warren's shooting percentage dropped off from a good start to a 31 percent finish for the game.

"I said at halftime we would have to box out and do a good job on rebounds and obviously we did not do a good job on that," Campbell said.

Terri Ingalls

Marshall's Daphne Walker scored those two crucial field goals and Warren was never quite the same after that. A basket by Crystal Cobb, who finished with 20 points and another by Terri Ingalls kept Warren ahead. Warren's last lead of the day came when Cobb scored on a layup with 2:51 to go, making it 30-29. But the Commandoes took control by scoring the next six points of the quarter while Warren missed three shots and committed two turnovers.

Offensively, Marshall was able to get the ball into 6-1 center LaTonia Foster. Foster, a junior, finished with 16 points and 16 rebounds.

"They started to find the seams in the passing lanes," Campbell said.

Walker, who finished with 10 points, scored with 6:13 left in the fourth quarter to extend the lead to seven. Ingalls answered with a three-pointer that seemingly put Warren back in the game, trailing but just four points with six minutes left.

The Commandoes, keyed by three Foster baskets, went on a 10-1 run that sealed Warren's fate. With 2:35 left Cobb hit a three-point shot and was Warren's first field goal in more than three minutes. That cut it to 10, but there was nothing left for a miracle finish. When Marshall made four straight free throws, Warren's season was over.

More than 700 Warren fans traveled down to Champaign to watch the North Suburban Conference champions. A Champaign daily newspaper had dubbed the Blue Devils as the 'newcomers' versus Marshall Coach Dorothy Gators, who has been to the Elite Eight since 1978. But for 16 minutes Friday, it was Warren who looked like the tournament-tested team.

"They have gutsy players and they intimidated us," Gators said.

Warren forced Marshall into nine first-quarter turnovers and held Foster scoreless.

Teri Huntington and Ingalls scored the first two baskets of the game. A three-pointer from Cobb and a layup by the talented junior gave Warren an 11-4 lead midway through the first quarter. Marshall came to within two but a basket by Cobb made it 13-9 Warren at the quarter.

Warren's shooting began to go astray in the second quarter but tenacious defense kept Warren ahead. A layup by Huntington made it 19-15 and a Sharon Vasek free throw gave the Blue Devils a five-point halftime lead.

Then Gators called on the man-to-man defense and midnight struck every early for Warren.

Time to remember Warren girls' highlights

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

It may have been the longest two minutes Warren girls basketball Coach Bruce Campbell has ever had.

There he stood at the podium, trying to understand just what went wrong in the second half of Warren's girls well together. They're not powerful or the quickest team. They play very well together," Campbell said of his 1987-88 team.

And as the final seconds ticked off the clock at the Assembly Hall, Warren fans stood up. "We are proud of you - we are proud of you," was the chant. And indeed, once the disappointment of the Marshall loss ends, this impressive group of hard workers can look back on:

-the second straight Mundelein Thanksgiving tournament championship;

-fourth place in the Dundee-Crown tournament, the tournament which would provide the ISHA with three of its eight Class AA Elite Eight teams;

-North Suburban Conference champions with a 17-1 record;

-a 1988 winning streak which included 15 straight wins.

-Warren's own regional title championship, the Waukegan East sectional championship, the Round Lake supersectional title and the post-game celebrations and team parties which went with the wins.

It may seem to the skeptic that it will be a long time before Warren returns to Champaign since seven of the 10 players will be graduating. Crystal Cobb returns but she will be the lone starter off the Elite Eight squad.

"She has been starting for us since she was a freshman and she is an excellent ballplayer. She is getting a lot better in passing, in dribbling. She is becoming an all-around player," Campbell said of Cobb.

It was Cobb who seemed to take charge of Warren's offense in the Marshall game. She led with 20 points, making nine of 17 two pointers and two of four from three-point range.

Campbell was quick to point out the important contributions of Terri Ingalls.

"I can't say enough about what she has done for this team. She has been a big part of our success this year. She is our leading rebounder, leads the team in steals and is as major part of this team," Campbell said.

basketball team's 55-38 loss to Chicago Marshall. The loss ended Warren's season after the Blue Devils had made their first appearance in the coveted Elite Eight.

Panthers earn NWSC title with help from Grayslake

There were 28 seconds left on the clock when the announcement was made at Round Lake Senior High School.

"The Grayslake Rams have defeated the Grant Bulldogs 49-47," the public address announcer said. Round Lake, which had long since all but decided the 59-43 win over Johnsburg, then celebrated as players, coaches and fans all basked in the Panthers' first Northwest Suburban Conference championship in 16 years.

"It's a big win for the program," Round Lake

Coach Bob Ward said after his team finished the NWSC season with a 12-2 record.

For Johnsburg, the Skyhawks finished a disappointing 5-9 in the NWSC, 10-13 overall before this week's Crystal Lake Central regional.

The win for the Panthers was one of 'you can stop our big scorer, but we have other weapons'. Brian Richardson was held scoreless for two and one-half quarters and only had six points.

Tim Unroe led the Panthers efforts. After a sluggish first quarter with 11 of his 16 points in the second period as the hosts gained control of the game.

"Unroe has killed us this year. Richardson has not hurt us," Johnsburg Coach Jeff Lewiston said.

"He can do a very capable job. He can play everywhere," Ward said of Unroe.

Ward said that revenge was not a big factor in preparation for the Skyhawks. "Winning the conference factor was the motivating factor," he said.

Johnsburg jumped off to an 8-2 lead early in the game.

Home court proves beneficial as Rams knock off Bulldogs

So, you say the homecourt advantage does not mean much anymore. Parity takes over and crowd support is a thing of the past.

But don't tell that to the Grayslake Rams.

The Rams made it eight-of-nine at home this year by upsetting Grant 49-47 Friday. The win knocked Grant, 11-3, out of the running for the Northwest Suburban Conference title, giving the championship to Round Lake. Grayslake finished the year tied for second with the Bulldogs.

"The crowd really got into the game. It was the biggest crowd we've had," Grayslake Coach Greg Groth said.

The Rams trailed by as many as 12 points at the outset of the second half. But then the halftime changes took over.

"We made some adjustments at halftime and we said we had to flat out stop them defensively," Groth said.

What was said worked. Grant's main force inside, 6-5 center Tony Culotta, was held to just four points. "We wanted to make their guards beat us and for the first half, they did," Groth said.

Grant's Ken Rasbid did most of the early damage and finished with 22 points to lead both teams. Kip Paul had 11 points for Grant.

"Rasbid is the only player who I would say played an above-average game," Grant Coach Tom Maplesaid.

Groth said the Rams switched defenders on Rasbid in the second half, assigning Mike Ryan to him.

Pete Lupori led Grayslake's efforts with 21 points and Timm West scored a 'quiet' 16.

Neither team could take command in the first quarter, which ended with the Bulldogs on top 10-9. The visitors then put together a 22-13 spree in the second quarter to open the lead to 32-22 at halftime. Rasbid scored in the opening seconds of the third quarter for a 12-point bulge. That soon dwindled away.

Grayslake outscored Grant 14-4 in the third quarter to regain control of the game.

Lake Zurich survives

The Lake Zurich Bears had an early indication that the regular season finale at Wauconda was not going to be your ordinary season ender.

The sophomore contest went into double overtime. That, plus the fact that it was senior and parents night meant the regular season finale for both teams did not start until about 40 minutes late.

But Lake Zurich overcame those early obstacles in a contest which featured four technical fouls called and won 56-53. The win gave Lake Zurich a 5-9 NWSC record and a tie with Johnsburg. Wauconda, meanwhile, lost its last chance for a regular season win in 27 games.

"I hope so," Lake Zurich Coach John Nesheim said when asked if the win would give the Bears momentum for the regional.

Nesheim said the hosts were ready for the Bears because they were trying to break the streak.

Lake Zurich built a lead through three-quarters of play and it reached 11, 52-41 in the fourth quarter. That is when the Bulldogs made a last stand - scoring 11 straight points and tying the game.

Lake Zurich made some key free throws in the final quarter despite making just over half - 13-of-24 - for the game.

Troy Hines led Lake Zurich with 14 points. Tony Ong had 11.

Wauconda's leading scorer, Chuck Cermak, was held below his season average with 11 points. Mark Sutherland led Wauconda with 15 counters.
